Town Saved In Fire

SEPT ISLES, Que., Jan. 8 (Tuesday) (CP).—This frontier Quebec town today at 3 a.m. (EST) was officially reported as "out of danger" from a $1,000,000 fire which raged out of control.

SEPT ILES, Que., Jan. 8 (Tuesday) (CP).—A $1,000,000 fire believed under control last night broke out anew early today when oxygen tanks in a steel warehouse exploded, sending flames 100 feet in the air. The flames are said to be spreading to several large oil tanks.

Pierre Comeau, an Sept Iles iron worker, said flames had broken out for a second time in a large, new department store, which was expected to be leveled in less than half an hour.

An attempt to halt the spread by dynamiting a wooden warehouse failed. Bulldozers were rushed back to the scene and are pushing snow in the path of the outbreak.

Comeau said he could give no reason for the explosion which set the fire blazing again. He said he believed it might have been the intense heat in the warehouse caused by the first fire.

The original blaze started in a garage at 7.30 p.m. The garage, a portion of the town hall, and most of a new department store were destroyed.

Four hours after the fire broke out, Mayor Jack Layden said flames were under control.

There were no casualties reported, but Comeau said plans are now being made to evacuate the town's 3,600 residents.

Bulldozers saved Sept Iles in the original outbreak and the townfolk are praying they will be able to smother the new outbreak.

The 17-foot snowbanks piled around the smoldering embers held the flames in check until the exploding tanks sent them across the fire-break and licked at the wooden storage building.

Main concern of the people is the fact that the large storage tanks lie right in the path of the flames.

Communication lines are being kept open and emergency crews are standing by, prepared to erect temporary circuits if they fail.

New Mayor Opens New Task

City Could Go Bankrupt, Harrison Tells Council

Mayor Pleads for Efficiency, Asks Co-operation and Advice

By RAY BAINES

A dramatic warning that Victoria could easily be bankrupt in a few years climaxed a lengthy and thorough inaugural address to city council by Victoria's new mayor last night.

In a plea to the 1952 council for unity of effort, economic efficiency, support in obtaining compensation for past losses, and good business judgment, Mayor C. L. Harrison wound up one of the most purposeful addresses heard here for many years.

"If we do not do these things, and if we continue to carry on as we have in the past, then, I am sorry to say, I feel we are bound to face eventual bankruptcy," he declared.

He offered hope, however, that if the council worked together to attain the many achievements he outlined "we will be a successful city and we need not fear the future."

CO-OPERATION

The whole matter, he stated, "now lies on the shoulders of the council." He asked members to forget "any small differences" and to "keep well above anything of a petty nature;" and to join in "mutual help, co-operation and advice" to form an efficient, progressive organization.

"This council will then, I am sure, go down in history as one of the best Victoria has perhaps ever had, leading the city out of the unhappy position in which it now finds itself and up to its rightful place as one of the strongest and very best cities on this coast . . . ."

Mayor Harrison first urged the council to "look back at our past mistakes and keep their lessons in mind."

He said the voters had shown that they want "things done in a different way and by a firmer and sterner hand."

UNWISE SCHEMES

"They do not want us to sit passively by while our rights are being taken away and unwise schemes entered into," he stated.

Turning then to the subject of finance and city spending, the mayor told the council that the handling of funds had "a profound effect not only for the present but all down through the years both locally and far afield."

"I sincerely trust it may be possible for us, by straining every effort and effecting every possible economy, to at least avoid any increase in the tax rate and maybe even afford some small measure of relief," he said.

He called for a strict economy of expenditure without impairment of services. He urged council to "retrench all along the line and to examine every item from the standpoint of its absolute necessity."

The mayor then expressed a strong opinion that the city should have a "substantial contingency reserve."

He suggested that the council have an open meeting where the financial advisers would disclose "first hand, in brief, plain language, how good or bad our finances are."

"We must take stock of our position and see what we have left, to see if nature still has something for us in our geographical position. This we have, I am sure," he stated.

Highlights Of Address

Here are some highlights in Mayor Claude L. Harrison's inaugural address at last night's council meeting:

POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS—The mayor called for "proper order and government" in the departments. He urged "proper courtesy" to the public so it would consider police as friends rather than enemies.

He hinted that he would like to see a new fire hall "as soon as we are on our feet."

NEW CITY HALL—Mayor Harrison said he did not believe the city should build a new city hall at all, but should extend the present one "as requirements demand."

CITY ARCHITECTURE—"I personally deplore the modern tendency to abolish our old and fascinating types of buildings."

He cited the city hall and Prince Robert House as examples.

ROADS—The mayor urged the city to make sure all pipes are laid before roads are surfaced.

TREES AND BOULEVARDS—For every one tree cut the city should plant four, the mayor said.

VACANT LANDS—The mayor suggested that many city-owned vacant properties could be converted into "green places" for the people to enjoy.

CITY-OWNED LOTS—Certain large pieces of land "are very well located and if subdivided and serviced would make most desirable homesites."

PRINCE ROBERT HOUSE—Mayor Harrison urged that the building be retained as a hostel for members of the armed forces.

BRIDGES—Nothing, except maintenance costs, should be spent on the Point Ellice Bridge, now that the bridge has been deemed safe, the mayor said.

He suggested that the span may eventually become part of the "great highway contemplated out of the city" in which case the present bridge could be used to replace the Rock Bay bridge.

He stated that the suggested Laurel Point Bridge (in traffic engineer Robert Dobie's report) should never be considered for one moment. It would be a "costly venture which would be most detrimental to large ships ever entering Victoria harbor."

TRAFFIC—"The traffic of Victoria to my mind is not a serious matter if handled with some plain common sense," the mayor said.

He suggested that uniform street lights would improve conditions and sign posts should be placed "very sparingly."

GOLDSTREAM PARK—The mayor said he welcomed government ownership of the park, "but it must be upon some promise over the signature of a minister or upon some substantial guarantee that no timber will be cut, also that the flats will be raised by dredging and a horseshoe beach will be constructed with fine sand for the use of the people forever."

ARENA INVESTIGATION—The mayor repeated his campaign plea that a full investigation into the safety of the arena be held under oath.

"I don't wish any misunderstanding about this building at all. We must have the assurance that it is absolutely safe for public use," he said. "This building, of course, is another illustration of 'how not to do it.'"

He indicated that the city could be not only civilly responsible, but criminally responsible under certain circumstances for damage or injuries.

SEWERS—The breakdown of the sewer outlet at Clover Point must be thoroughly investigated, the mayor said.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS—The city should go after government grants made to municipalities in lieu of taxes.

He also urged the council to "press for consideration" from the provincial government in respect to the "very considerable holdings in the city."

SOOKE LAKE—Cutting of timber on watershed lands should cease "until some clear and definite affirmatively proven theory has been found to be actually workable," the mayor said.

Truman, Churchill Talk On Defense, Materials

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman today reviewed the west's grand strategy for countering international Communism in a second formal White House meeting.

A "top secret" label was clamped on the specific problems discussed, but they were believed to include appointment of an admiral to head the Atlantic Pact naval forces, agreement on a standard rifle, and exchange of atomic information.

Talks will resume Tuesday at 11 a.m. EST.

At their morning meeting the two leaders tackled critical raw material shortages. They named a committee of specialists to seek ways of increasing raw materials supplies needed by British and American industry, headed by Charles E. Wilson, American mobilization chief, and Lord Cherwell, Britain's paymaster-general. Materials involved include steel, tin, copper, aluminum and sulphur.

They also were reported to have agreed tentatively on a need for streamlining the executive machinery which guides the 12-country North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

If G.O.P. Names Him

Eisenhower Will Run

PARIS, Jan. 7 (AP).—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that if the Republican convention asks him to run for President of the United States he will give up his command here and enter the race.

But the general emphasized he would not quit his job to campaign for the nomination.

The general's statement was made after Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts had announced in Washington that Eisenhower was a Republican and that his name would be entered in the March 11 primary in New Hampshire. Senator Lodge is spearheading a campaign in the general's behalf. It said:

"There is no question of the right of American citizens to organize in pursuit of their common convictions. I realize that Senator Lodge and his associates are exercising this right in an attempt to place before me next July a duty that would transcend my present responsibility.

"In the absence, however, of a clear-cut call to political duty I shall continue to devote my full attention and energies to the performance of the vital task to which I am assigned."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, Governor Earl Warren of California and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, already have announced that they are candidates for the nomination.

Mayor Gets Big Crowd

Every seat and every bit of standing room was occupied last night as citizens flocked to hear the inaugural address of Mayor Claude L. Harrison at last night's council meeting.

Many persons were turned away at the opening of the meeting. Most, however, did not remain for the remainder of the council business.

The mayor's lengthy address was received with thunderous applause from the council members and the assembled people.

Mayor Harrison was welcomed to the "civic family" by veteran alderman Frank Mulliner before the address was delivered.

Only one heckler interrupted the hour-long talk which the mayor delivered with some difficulty owing to a bad cold.

The long address (the longest in the memory of city clerk Frank Hunter) was broadcast over station CJVI, the first time an inaugural address has been on the air in Victoria's history.

Wootten Sworn But Doesn't Sit

Roy H. Wootten was sworn in to Saanich council last night but was excused by Reeve Joseph Casey almost immediately, upon his own request.

"There have been some doubts cast in the press on my qualifications," he said.

Mr. Wootten said he thought it "best to sit the meeting out to see if anyone wishes to press a charge."

"There is no doubt in my own mind, as owner of several properties in Saanich, regarding my qualifications," he said later. He said he would take his seat next week.

Committee Urges End of Coalition

By Colonist Legislative Reporter

VANCOUVER, Jan. 8 (Tuesday).—H. G. T. Perry, president of the B.C. Liberal Association, late last night confirmed that a "very early convention" was in prospect for B.C. Liberals.

He declined to name a date.

He said the Liberals' executive committe would set the date.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 8 (Tuesday).—The executive committee of the B.C. Liberal Association will be asked today to call for termination of the Coalition government and a general election immediately after the legislative session that begins Feb. 19.

The resolution calling for an end of the government was approved early this morning by a resolutions committee which called on the executive committee to pass it.

The resolutions committee also forwarded and recommended passages of the following resolutions:

1. That margarine be allowed to be colored in British Columbia (Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Victoria M.L.A., said he would introduce a bill to this effect in the February session).

2. That a liquor plebiscite be held to provide for the sale of liquor in the province by whatever means the public decides.

3. That federal old-age pensions of $40 a month without a means test be given to war veterans at the age of 60 instead of 70 as it is for others.

4. That the government prevent further increases in telephone rates.

5. That price ceilings be placed on the necessities of life.

6. That the federal government revoke the Canadian registry of the Ming Sung Company.

7. That the provincial government facilitate the import of natural gas from Alberta to British Columbia.

8. That the Liberals support Canada's new anti-price-fixing law.

9. That British Columbia's representation in the federal Senate be increased from six to 12 members.

10. That a provincial Liberal convention be held in February, apparently before the session. The resolution originally said "during the week of April 14" but was amended to read "February."

In urging a speedy end to Coalition, the resolutions committee said that the Coalition was formed to "meet wartime emergency conditions" that do not now apply.

Separate Schools Issue Splits Liberal Meeting

By T. A. MYERS
Colonist Legislative Reporter

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—The hotly contentious issue of separate schools tied up the 35-man advisory council of the B.C. Liberal Association in its protracted secret session here tonight.

There was no way of knowing which of two opposing sides won out. Party officials weren't talking.

But some members were said to be leading a drive for integration of Catholic schools into the B.C. public school system.

Others, it was reported, fought it out.

The issue dragged out the meeting after a day-long session in which the matter of a provincial party convention topped the agenda.

Premier Byron Johnson, it was reliably learned, spoke out in favor of an early convention—perhaps almost immediately after the legislative session which opens Feb. 19.

The convention would decide one vital question: Whether B.C. Liberals will remain in coalition with the Conservatives, or will seek house domination on their own.

Battered Ship Nearing Haven

LONDON, Jan. 7 (AP).—Capt. Kurt Carlsen and his hurricane-shattered ship plugged through Atlantic swells at walking pace today to within 110 miles of safety.

Carlsen's vessel was reported riding easily in tow.

M.P. Aids Smoke Fund

A cheque for $25 received from Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, who himself is not long back from a visit to Canadian troops in the front line in Korea, swelled the Korean cigarette fund to $2,664.58 yesterday.

There is another $100 already on hand which will be applied to the fund when the amount hits $2,900. Goal of the fund is $3,000.

P.U.C. to Hear Brief

Council Votes to Fight Electric Boost

The city will fight the proposed boost in electric light rates applied for last week by the B.C. Electric.

Saanich council also voted to protest the increase. (See story on Page 7.)

City council last night approved a motion from Ald. Waldo Skillings instructing city solicitor Arthur Patton to draw up a brief for presentation before the Public Utilities Commission.

"I think it is very advisable," said Mayor Claude Harrison. "We've got to do something about this continual increase."

The power company has applied to the Public Utilities Commission for permission to increase the rates from two to 2.5 cents a kilowatt hour for 200-kilowatt-hour classes.

A letter from the B.C. Electric explaining the need for the boost and one from the P.U.C. inviting the city to submit a brief were read to the council.

Ald. Skillings suggested that Mayor Harrison and certain other city officials accompany the city solicitor when they appear before the commission this week "to lend moral support."

City council gave final approval to the offer of $87 each for $439,000 worth of school and street improvement bonds.

The bid came from the well-known eastern bond house, Wood Gundy. The offer is the first firm bid the city has received since tenders were called for.

City manager Cecil Wyatt secured the deal while he was on a trip to the east.

LOSE $18,000

City comptroller Henry Watson said the city would lose about $18,000 net on the debentures. Gross loss of $55,000 (a $13 discount on each bond) was partly offset by having to pay no interest while the bonds remained unsold.

Extreme economy to offset possible bankruptcy was recommended by the comptroller in an impromptu address to the council.

The comptroller bore out a warning made by Mayor Claude L. Harrison in his inaugural address minutes before that the city has been heading for bankruptcy with its past policy.

"I am not very happy with the trend our financial affairs have taken in the last three years," Mr. Watson told the council.

He was asked for the report by Ald William Pinfold who said he was "very impressed" by the mayor's reference to the seriousness of the financial situation.

Ald. Pinfold has been appointed chairman of the finance committee.

The city has had to pay out Mr. Watson stated, more than $1,000,000 in increased costs for materials, wages and education chiefly the last.

"Some of the material costs have gone up more than 100 per cent," the comptroller said. He said that the "considerable rise" in the tax assessment would not offset these increases.

He said the tax rate had not risen, however, in proportion to the cost of living.

"Some could pay more, some could not. But more taxes mean reverted properties and you know what that means," he said.

Mr. Watson said that sales tax grants from the government could be applied directly to the schools but this would bring the general tax levy "dangerously close" to 35 mills, the maximum under the Municipal Act.

He warned that if spending is not done with great economy the city in four or five years might be "in a very unpleasant situation indeed."

He said that then the city would have to stop all work, head towards bankruptcy, or try and raise money elsewhere.

"We must, therefore, be economical. We must remain solvent," he said.

City auditor Patrick Dunn added that now was the time for the city to be "frugal."

"The headaches we suffer in bad times are contracted in good times," he commented.

France Honors Brave Skipper

PARIS, Jan. 7 (AP).—Capt. Kurt Carlsen, skipper of the crippled Flying Enterprise, today was awarded a French decoration for his efforts to save his vessel.

Princess Victoria's Hull Sold For Use as Hog Fuel Carrier

By RAY WORMALD

Dry those tears, ship lovers—the veteran Ss. Princess Victoria isn't going to the scrapyard after all.

The hull of the 50-year-old steamer is to be used as a hog fuel carrier.

She has been purchased by Tahsis Co. Ltd., lumber mill firm directed by the big Vancouver business of Gibson Bros. Ltd. The hull was sold by the ship scrapping firm of Wagner, Stein and Greene.

An official of Gibson Bros. said yesterday the sale involved only the old Vic's hull. It would be delivered to its new owners "within 60 days," he said. At that time a Gibson Bros. tug will take the shell to Port Tahsis.

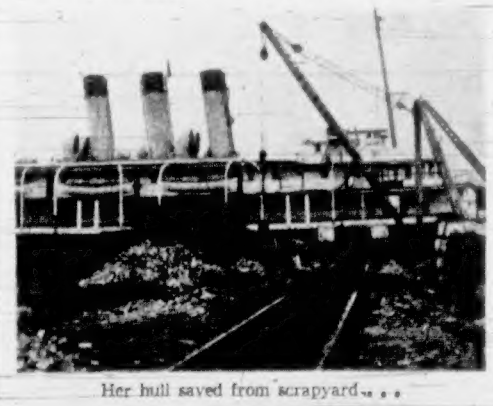
Conversion work will be handled at Port Tahsis.

The hull will become the first hog fuel carrier operated by the Tahsis timber company. She will be operated between Port Tahsis on Vancouver Island and the lower British Columbia coast area.

Price paid for the hull has not been disclosed.

Wreckers have already made a good start in stripping the vessel of machinery, woodwork, fixtures and other equipment.

The Princess Victoria was the forerunner of the C.P.R.'s big "princess" fleet, and throughout her career on the B.C. coast was the pride of her owners.



Her hull saved from scrapyard . . .

Fists, Not Fairies Ran Cars of Old

By H. T. MATSON

. . . Switch on the ignition, press the little button on the dash, slide a miniature lever along to "DR," depress the throttle then lean back while 4½ tons of chrome and soft metal squdge lazily forward. Presently gears begin lethargically changing themselves—up or down according to taste—and henceforth the toughest part of the outing is to keep awake. (A year hence, you will be delighted to hear, cars will be marketed with brakes, throttle, steering column, etc., arranged along the roof of the car while the driver reclines on foam rubber and operates from the horizontal.)

H. T. MATSON

That—and how bored we are about it—just about describes your modern hydromatic, flabby, multi-gadgeted 'Amurcan" automobile and doubtless, and bitter the thought, it is just the drill for the soft, molasses-minded, butter-bodied quagga that today walks hazily hither and yon fondly imagining itself a man. But suppose we don't get quite so gritty about our theme; instead, suppose we lithely pole-vault back to A.D. Nineteen-Nine . . . . to the plebeian E.M.F.'s, Flanders and early Fords; thence to the patrician Locomobile, Peerless, Thomas Flyer and Winton Six . . . to the titanic, lidless coffins that so nobly keelhauled our begoggled forebears over fallen trees, creaky wooden bridges, bottomless potholes and through foot-thick gravel in the brave but indelicate motoring days of long ago.

The men that sortied in the flat-fendered, quivering battering-rams of 1909 were not only brave, but plumb crazy. Nought knew they of such epoxene flapdoodle as foam rubber seating, finger tip control, etc. Correspondingly the cars of yesteryear were as mulishly implacable as the best politicians of our time. Sledge and crowbar were their only masters. Automatic choke, high compression ratios or four-wheel brakes meant nothing at all. So, only the man that really knew his truncheons stood fair to bludgeon one or any of these outstanding lumps of iron into a tubercular "60" . . . and then if a wheel took off . . . well, down around the morgue at least it's quiet and very permanent.

Circa our chosen date of 1909 and earlier, nearly all models were open "tourers" with ponderous multi-strutted, canvas tops and a confusion of side curtains, odd flaps, buttons and crackling mica. Self starters were unknown to the great "O Niners," as also were electric lights and signals. Hand cranking was the vogue supreme, resultant that many a brave man wandered ubiquitously with arm in sling—just another backfire victim—backfire, the ghoul which could earth a man galvanically then like as not immediately burst into flame and have him really writhing.

Alors mes enfants; the foregoing depicts merely the minor discomforts that grandpa gaily suffered when his gluttony for speed and motion got the upper hand. But grandpa had courage—lots of it—and compared with the hydromatic "Hibiscus Harrys" that slouch behind contemporary, boostered steering wheels, G.P. was the unchallenged "Cast Iron Cactus," the "Stormy Petrol" of a Spartan day—and cracked forearms or third degree burns meant less in 1909 than catching one's necktie in a door in 1952.

But what cared G. Pop—what did he even guess of better things to come . . . of heaters, self-starters or even humdrum things like enclosed bodies, windshield wipers or doors that oped and closed. All he knew was sweat, broken limbs, blow outs, blow ups, outrageous gear boxes, fatuous brakes, and magnetos which when accidentally touched would spin him non stop from Halifax to Melbourne.

Albeit, despite bruises, blisters, blood and burns the heart of Gramp was strangely bithe and gay. Apparently, he loved this suffering; this ecstasy of self-torture which held perhaps a note of sheer divinity; and in the erotic paradise of his ne-plus-ultra-misery he'd fight the ruts and washouts with knuckles whitening on the steering wheel with a Skull and Cross Bones alert and leering on his right and the long Scythe leaning patiently on his left.

Au revoir cher Grandpere—au revoir toutes voitures de mille neuf cent zero neuf. Bravely you sacrificed for the sluggards of today. Full glory to the valiant; to the valiant that only taste of death but once . . . hic jacet . . . end.

Street Lighting Debated

It was an evening of firsts for the new Esquimalt council last night. It was the first meeting, and the 41st council.

Councillors had their first good argument, too.

An appeal from Yarrows Ltd. to have street lights turned on early in the morning for workers on their way to the shipyard touched off the argument.

Cost of lighting streets from 6 a.m. to daylight would be about $170 more than the present light bill, council discovered and the difficulty is that the municipality is split into two different electrical systems.

South Esquimalt is on a "series" system manually switched, but the north side is on a "multiple" system which is automatically set to switch on at sunset and off at 2 a.m.

The multiple system can be operated manually, but it would be just as cheap to leave it on all night, council decided.

Every councillor's idea of darkness was fairly fully presented, in order to establish best times for turning off the street lights.

Council voted to keep lights burning from 6 a.m. to daylight. Councillor John Carey voted against the measure.

Reeve Would Shut Purse

"Money received from taxpayers should not be voted to anyone asking for donations," Reeve A. C. Wurtele told the first meeting of the new Esquimalt council last night.

Tax money is for services rendered, he said, not a trust fund to be given away. One exception to the rule should be the V.O.N., he suggested.

The reeve appealed to councillors to "try to prepare a 1952 public works by-law without having to raise the mill rate."

Council meetings should be conducted, he suggested, with the "greatest dignity possible."

"The press is here to publish all our deliberations," he said, "and we should not ask them to skip over certain parts of what they hear." He suggested that the council meet in committee before the regular public council meetings, so that personal and other differences between councillors could be settled before going into public session.

The reeve presided at swearing-in of two new council members, George F. Argyle and W. D. Dallaway.

Esquimalt Baffled

Esquimalt council wants to oppose the application for higher electricity rates made recently by the B.C. Electric Co., but it doesn't know how.

Public Utilities Commission notified the council that the application would be granted Jan. 14 "unless reasons or evidence that it should not be granted are presented before that date."

Councillors explored ways of finding evidence that the electric company is not operating to best advantage, or that it is overstaffed, but could reach no agreement and the letter from the commission was finally marked "received and filed."

Mount McKinley, the highest peak in North America, was first topped by mountaineers in 1913.

Committees Appointed

Reeve A. C. Wurtele appointed the following committees at the first Esquimalt council meeting of the new year:

Standing committees: finance, Clr. John Carey, Clr. James Bryant, Clr. G. F. Argyle; public works, Clr. G. R. Guillemaud, Clr. Bryant, Clr. W. H. Dallaway, Clr. Carey, Clr. Walter Holder; parks and playgrounds, Clr. Bryant, Clr. Guillemaud, Clr. Argyle; reverted property, Clr. Guillemaud, Clr. Dallaway, Clr. Carey.

Representatives: Royal Jubilee Hospital, Reeve Wurtele; Juvenile Detention Home, Clr. Dallaway; Greater Victoria Water Board, Reeve Wurtele and Clr. Argyle as substitute; transportation committee, Clr. Dallaway; Victoria Celebrations Association, Reeve Wurtele; Esquimalt Celebrations Association, Clr. Carey; civil defense control board, Reeve Wurtele, Clr. Bryant, Clr. Holder; inter-municipal committee, Clr. Bryant; capital regional planning board, Clr. Carey; court of revision, whole council.

Clr. Guillemaud was appointed deputy reeve.

Built Too Late for War, Airfields Serve Defense

A string of airfields in northern Canada, completed too late for full use in the Second World War, is now playing an important role in Canada's northern defenses and also in rescue operations of that desolate Arctic wasteland. They were built for flying supplies to Britain.

R.C.A.F. cameramen have taken aerial photographs of most of Canada's Arctic area. Their work is of great value to defense authorities.

Maj. David L. McKeand, formerly associated with the Arctic in a series of government jobs, mentioned the air fields in a talk to the Gyro Club yesterday.

in the RELIEF OF PAIN...

Science progresses . . . for 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for relief of pain. Today this familiar pain killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of acidity, insolubility and bitter taste. It is called DISPRIN and is sold at druggists everywhere.

DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

DISPRIN is now available at your druggist. Bottles of 24 tablets or Handy Pocket Packets of 8.

King's Spring Trip to South Africa Holds Dual Health, Diplomatic Aim

LONDON, Jan. 7 (AP).—The King will cruise to South Africa this spring, Buckingham Palace announced today. The visit is designed to improve his health, but it also may be intended to cultivate closer relations with South Africa.

The palace said Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret will accompany the King on the trip in March and April. The exact date the cruise will begin and the itinerary still are indefinite.

The Royal Family will travel aboard the 42,500-ton battleship Vanguard which took them to South Africa in 1947.

Prime Minister Daniel Malan will be host to the royal party at his country home in southern Natal.

Selection of South Africa—somewhat restive member of the British Commonwealth—as the royal destination came as a surprise.

Previously there had been published speculation in London that the cruise would be carried out in the Caribbean with a few shore excursions.

The Crown is the unifying principle in the British Commonwealth system. Some sentiment to separate South Africa from the Crown exists in the troubled Union.

South Africa's segregation policies also have involved the Union in argument with India, another member of the Commonwealth.

FAR FROM WELL

The King's physicians suggested the cruise in hope that sunshine and sea air would speed his recovery from the dangerous operation he underwent in September for removal of all or part of a lung.

The Monarch is still far from well. His subjects at home and abroad noted with concern how weak his voice sounded in his recorded Christmas broadcast.

Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, will be touring Australia and New Zealand at the same time.

Angry Mob in Jerusalem Halted by Walls of Fire

JERUSALEM, Jan. 7 (Reuters)—Police flooded roads with gasoline and made walls of fire here tonight to keep back 10,000 Jews marching on the Knesset (Parliament) shouting: "No truce with Hitler's heirs."

A debate in Parliament on Israel's claim to reparations from Germany for the death of 6,000,000 Jews under the Nazis was broken up by angry demonstrators who stoned their way through police cordons around the Knesset.

The mob supporters of former terrorist leader Menachem Beigen's Freedom Party, was protesting a plan by Prime Minister David Ben Gurion's coalition government on direct negotiations with West German government.

UPROAR INSIDE

Inside the Legislature, misty with tear gas, Beigin himself and Ben Gurion shouted at each other through the uproar, their words punctuated by wailing police cars, clanging ambulances, fire engine sirens and the tinkle of breaking glass.

Beigin, sworn in just today as a Knesset member, yelled at the Premier:

"The son of a murdered victim never should sit with the murdered in order to obtain blood money.

"Did you receive the consent of 6,000,000 dead Jews for the return of 5 per cent of their property?"

Ben Gurion had put Nazi loot from Jews at $6,000,000,000, but Israel demands $1,500,000,000 in German reparations—a quarter of Ben Gurion's figure.

Reds Repel Allied Attack

SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 8 (Tuesday) (AP).—Allied infantrymen fought within grenade-throwing distance of an important outpost position on the western front Monday but the Reds forced them back.

A U.S. Eighth Army briefing officer said the United Nations troops battled into the 12th straight day Tuesday for a small hill west of Korangpo. They lost it Dec. 28.

The struggle has been named the battle of Sasi Bulge.

In the air war U.S. F-86 Sabre jets, outnumbered two to one, shot down two Russian-made Migs and damaged two others. The Fifth Air Force described the encounter as a "furious battle" south of Uiju, Red jet base in northwest Manchuria.

Famous Flyer In Hospital

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP).—Bert Acosta, colorful aviation pioneer, is in hospital today with a lung ailment.

Toronto Gets to Work—and Home But Faces Threat of Gas Strike

TORONTO, Jan. 7 (CP).—Torontonians settled down today to life without a street-car. But another, more serious crisis—a gas strike—loomed.

As Toronto's 700,000 residents and 600,000 others in adjoining municipalities "dug in" for the duration of the transit strike, they were faced by the possibility of a walkout of some 700 gas workers. A gas strike would affect 250,000 homes and 7,000 industrial and commercial firms.

But Canada's second largest city found today that it could exist without street-cars and buses, the operators of which walked out last Friday in a wage dispute with the Toronto Transportation Commission.

The 4,700 transit workers demand a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase to $1.55 an hour. The publicly-owned T.T.C. offered five cents, contending that it cannot grant full demands without an increase in fares, now three tickets for a quarter. A long strike appeared in prospect with both sides standing firm.

The gas workers, members of Local 161, International Chemical Workers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), voted to strike against the Consumers Gas Company. A date will be set at a membership meeting next Sunday. The men seek a wage increase of 10 per cent the average wage now is $1.36 an hour—and a reduction of the work week to 40 hours from 42.

The company's position is that of a conciliation board majority report: No wage increase but incorporation into the wage structure of half of the 25½-cent-an-hour cost-of-living bonus now being paid. A minority report recommended a general increase of nine cents an hour and a 40-hour week.

Oddities

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Jan. 7 (AP).—Everywhere that Russell Hazel goes on his dairy farm now, one of his Hereford heifers is bound to follow.

The heifer fell through the ice covering a small lake several days ago. The animal was rescued but it suffered from severe shock.

Hazel blanketed the heifer and poured a pint of whisky down her throat. She recovered quickly.

Now the heifer follows the farmer around like a dog, licking his hands.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP).—Samuel Masiello, 26, found a three-inch-long percussion cap, a wire protruding from each end, in his basement today.

A burglar alarm tester by trade, Masiello hooked the wires to a dry cell battery to see what would happen.

He was removed to hospital with multiple body wounds.

The hospital said his condition was not serious.

WEST RUNTON, Norfolk, England, Jan. 7 (AP).—Mrs. Emerald Gual of Cromer, 24, gave birth to the second and third members of a set of triplets Sunday night one week after the first arrived.

The baby born in 1951 was a boy weighing four pounds.

Those who made their debut in 1952 were another boy, weighing four pounds, five ounces and a girl weighing three pounds, 11 ounces. They were born within 10 minutes of one another.

"Mother and babies are all doing very well," said a hospital spokesman.

Truce Negotiators Make No Headway

MUNSAN, Korea, Jan. 8 (Tuesday) (AP).—Allied and Communist truce negotiators argued fruitlessly for one hour and 45 minutes today on how to police a Korean armistice.

A pooled dispatch from Panmunjom said the meeting was [illegible] held Monday, at which the Reds were described as acting "like schoolgirls who had a secret and weren't telling their friends."

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols said the Reds were "not as actively antagonistic" Tuesday as they were Monday.

"Their position appeared to be the same," Nuckols said, "merely that it was not expressed with the vehemence of yesterday."

Debate again centred on a proposed Allied ban on the building and repair of military airfields during a truce.

During Tuesday's session United States Air Force Major-Gen. Howard M. Turner told the Reds a military airfield held the same potential threat as an unloaded gun—both could be quickly loaded.

Chinese Major-Gen. Hsieh Fang again accused the Allies of attempting to delay the negotiations.

It was the same position the two sides held when Monday's session ended.

Dead Centre In Danger

MERIDEN, Warwickshire, England, Jan. 7 (Reuters).—The inhabitants of this little village are the guardians of England's heart—and they want it moved lest it get broken.

A simple stone cross put up on the edge of the village green 500 years ago is popularly held to mark the dead centre of England.

But a main road passes only a few yards away. Villagers fear a passing car might smash the cross and break England's heart.

So the parish council has decided to move it 20 yards north to the middle of the green.

"After all, a few yards won't make much difference," a council official said.

Gulf Islands Ferry Service

WITH the prosperity of the Gulf Islands communities threatened, the indignation expressed by residents of the islands against the recent drastic curtailment of steamer services is easy to understand. Such settlement and development as have taken place among the islands were encouraged and made possible by transportation services providing fairly frequent sailings for passengers, freight and mail. Then suddenly, on the withdrawal of the Ss. Princess Mary, residents of all but two of the islands find their service cut from three steamer calls a week to one every eight days. The effect of that reduction is bound to be very serious for all of them, especially those depending on tourist trade. Fears that property values will depreciate seem well founded.

Mayne Island residents at a recent public meeting protested that while transportation services in other areas of the province have been expanded to keep pace with and encourage development, those of the Gulf Islands have deteriorated year by year, to the point where their communities are to all intents and purposes isolated from the rest of the world. Although much of the blame for this was put on the operating company, the crux of the matter appears to be the inadequacy of docking facilities at all ports except Ganges and North Pender. Wharves which were usable by the Mary are unsuitable for the larger Elaine, now providing most of the Gulf Islands service, with assistance from the Maquinna once every eight days.

It is understood that the C.P.R. would be willing to restore thrice-weekly sailings if facilities were improved to permit of safe operation of the Elaine at ports now served by the Maquinna, which at some places would mean extensive reconstruction. Strong representations should be made to the Dominion government to carry out a program of port improvement in a case such as this, in which the existence of many communities is wholly dependent on water transportation.

"Barkis Is Willing"

GENERAL DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER left little doubt in his statement yesterday that he would accept the Republican nomination for president if it were offered to him with sufficient backing to ensure success. As that party is already in the ascendant in both Houses of Congress a unanimous Republican nomination might well be a passport to the White House in the forthcoming test. General Eisenhower, however, puts it on the basis of duty to his country, and there is no reason to doubt his sincerity in that. It is not the domestic politics of the United States that will draw chief attention, but the world consequences if General Eisenhower were to be withdrawn from his current post in Europe. No man can serve in two positions simultaneously.

This development, even in prospect, lends additional interest to Prime Minister Churchill's visit to Washington. To some extent the confidant of both President Truman and his prospective challenger, Mr. Churchill may be relied upon to interfere in no particular with that possible, and highly probable conflict. On the other hand, how can the issue of the supreme command of Atlantic Pact forces be ignored if that position is to become vacant within a few months? With his known predilections for a federated Europe, a close alliance between Anglo-Saxon groups and concerted action in all things, Mr. Churchill for once may have to muzzle himself. Meanwhile, outside of the circle of state confidences, millions of people in the world will be watching these developments, from which some far-reaching decisions may emerge.

As clearly as any man of his nature and responsibilities can do so, General Eisenhower has opened the gate to his own withdrawal from Europe in any military capacity. That if it transpires will leave a considerable gap, a serious check in the Atlantic Pact arrangements and an unpredictable reaction in Western Europe where many delicate negotiations are now in a state of flux. So the external, rather than the internal, consequences of this development will draw much attention for some time to come.

Electric Light Rates

THERE seems to be a belief in some quarters that unless numerous protests are lodged with the Public Utilities Commission the rate increase sought by the B.C. Electric will be granted automatically. This is not so. It is not a case of something gained by default.

To date few objections to the proposed increase have been lodged with the commission. It is reported that the city council may oppose the application, lest by not doing so the electric light consumer might have to pay more. He might in the end in any case, but it should not be merely because of lack of official city action. Except that it lets the utility board know the feelings of the protestant a protest is in a sense redundant.

Public utility commissions are not set up to give priority to the interests of operating companies over those of the public such companies serve. It will be recalled that during the war the commission ordered certain light-free months to offset company revenues deemed to be more than the norm, and this was done without representation of any kind on the part of the consuming public. It is for the commission to deal with increase applications on their merits, holding the scales even between fair returns and fair light rates in relation to the economics of the day.

The commission has the machinery to sift the facts and it is its job to do just that. The B.C. Electric may or may not be granted the increase it seeks, but the decision will not rest on the number of protests lodged against the application. At least it most certainly should not.

OLD-AGE PENSION

Sir,—There are evidently quite a few who think that the old-age pension will only be paid to Canadian citizens, some of them probably amongst the estimated 4,000 who have not yet applied for said pension.

They are mistaken. Any resident of Canada who has lived here 20 years is entitled to pension. If you will print this you will help out some people probably. I, myself, got a hint about this some time ago from letter in the press from a former social security worker.

A REJOINDER

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to an article which appeared on Dec. 13, in which Mr. Harry Adaskin is reported to have commented on a criticism of my recent London recital. I feel certain that Mr. Adaskin's remarks were based upon an excerpt from the criticism taken out of its context. The complete criticism read as follows:

"Robin Wood, a young Canadian pianist, gave his first recital at Wigmore Hall last night. The far ranging program was a severe test both of the artist's technique and of his sympathies.

"He showed himself to be equipped powerfully enough to run the course of Liszt's B minor Sonata in 28 minutes (as against Raabe's standard a generation ago of 33), with thoroughly justified confidence and impressive octave playing. There was no failure of competence from end to end, and the audience recognized a sterling talent."

Mr. Richard Capell, who wrote the above for the London Daily Telegraph of Dec 12, was evidently comparing the standard of technique today with that of a generation ago. In a subsequent article on the Liszt Sonata which appeared in the same newspaper on Dec. 15, he wrote:

"A hundred years ago, as Dana Reuter has told us, there were hardly a dozen pianists in the world capable of coping with Liszt's compositions. Today these are the playground of hundreds if not thousands; and we hear the Sonata in B minor, which only a generation ago was a rarity, twice in one week at Wigmore Hall. All honour to the performers such as Edna Iles last Saturday and Robin Wood on Tuesday who come out of the battle with colours flying."

It is of no importance to me that I played the Sonata in 28 minutes. The tempo depends in part upon the hall's acoustics. My only concern was to play it musically. I should be grateful if you would rectify the impression which has been created.

TELEVISION FOR CHILDREN

Sir,—May I congratulate The Colonist on the excellent leading article on the subject of "Television for Children." There is enough misery and strife in the world without laying it on as an entertainment for the young.

It may be of interest to your readers that the British Broadcasting Corporation have recently rewritten part of the old nursery rhyme "Oranges and Lemons." It was thought that the sentence, "And down came a chopper, to chop off his head", might frighten some of the youngsters.

It is a pity that others do not think a little more about the young.

MRS. ELIZABETH MASON

Sir,—My wife and I are very pleased indeed to associate ourselves with the sentiments expressed by your correspondent Dorothy Abraham regarding the late Mrs. Elizabeth Mason. Since we became acquainted with Mrs. Mason, we know of a surety that she faithfully carried out the principles contained in those words found in St. Matthew's gospel which read: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IN ancient times when superstitions were rife men believed in anything. In modern times when man has debunked the ancients, plumbed the universe and split the atom, he still believes anything.

The circle is back to its starting point. Although, perhaps, how could it be otherwise?

What with voices that come from nowhere at the turn of a knob, of planes bettering the speed of sound, of machines alleged to take the place of brains—who dares disbelieve.

So, the modern sophisticate becomes as credulous as his caveman ancestor.

Hence the green fireball seen in Albuquerque that might be a guided missile from Mars. It might only be a meteoric splinter but then it might not.

Are there not flying saucers of recent memory?

* * *

Are there not, too, deluded beings who should know better who embrace Communism in the belief it bespeaks the promised land? Why yes. And is not the philosophy prevalent that the less one works the greater the prosperity? Why yes.

Not to speak of security.

This is another fetish, the like of which indeed even the ancient never dreamed of. Naive he was, but while bowing to his idols he took care to fend for himself. For all his superstitions he learned early that true security rested in his own strong arms.

Funny how it is that life on a platter has become the universal goal, as though no one was needed to fashion even the platter.

There are other cults before which homo and his spouse make obeisance. Zoot suits, for instance, and juke boxes, and movie queens' hair-dos, and speed and, paradoxically, sloth of mind and body.

The restless, zestless age. That's us.

So filled with capsuled learning and mechanical magic the verities have all but departed; so that we risk the loss of fundamental manhood.

Independence of mind and body.

* * *

Not easy to recapture nowadays, of a truth, when homo is a slave to so many restrictions. A gilded slave in some ways, of course, but a hostage to fortune nevertheless.

Someone else's fortune.

'Twas ever thus, perhaps, but the crowning credulity is that we tend to accept all this as the ultimate, the final rung of the human ladder.

And thus swallow the Winchells, absorb the gangbusters, worship at Hollywood, mistake shirt-sleeves for democracy, featherbed our working days, and in general grasp at the straws and blink at reality.

Ah well, we can still refuse to walk under a ladder.

There's that much initiative left, praise be, so all is not lost even if the circumvention be superstition. And anyway this is 1952.

So it is a sobering thought.

For of course homo must live when he lives, remarks like the foregoing to the contrary. There's no going back. And he's probably a better chap than this moodish piece would suggest.

Certainly he is when separated from the plural.

Yes, even if he does believe a lot of things that he'd be better to take with salt.

Gerald Waring Reports From Ottawa

THE only thing no one seems to have suggested, in the argument as to whether our governors-general should be Britons or Canadians, is that we should go all the way and elect the governor-general.

Startling as the suggestion may sound, it's not an illogical next step.

We consider the governor-general as the King's personal representative, a sort of deputy king who performs most of His Majesty's functions in respect of the Kingdom of Canada when the King is absent from his North American Kingdom, which is most of the time.

Originally the governor-general was appointed by the King on the advice of his British ministers which made the appointee really the representative of the British government. Then, when Canada obtained independence from Britain, the Westminster government ceased selecting our governors-general. But the King wasn't permitted to choose his Canadian representative on his own. Constitutionally that would have been a retrograde step. So he continued to rely on ministerial advice, but on the advice of his ministers in Ottawa rather than those in London.

* * *

Thus it came about that the occupant of Rideau Hall became really an appointee of the Canadian government. So one could make a case in favor of filling the office by election rather than appointment, if the government decides that henceforth the incumbent shall be a Canadian.

"But that would be bringing politics into it!" I can hear people say. Maybe. But what is the alternative?

If the governor-generalship, already in the grip of the Canadian government, is to be limited to Canadians, it is quite likely to become another political plum, a post for party favorites who can demand something more than a mere senatorship or judgeship or ambassadorship.

True, recent appointments to the bench, except in the Province of Quebec, have been on a high and almost non-partisan plane. And one cannot quarrel too greatly with the type of men named to head missions abroad. But the state of the Senate is a national scandal.

It would add no lustre to the Crown of Canada which Lord Alexander is leaving this year burnished brightly, to have men appointed to the governor-generalship as they are to the Senate, on the basis of services to their political party.

* * *

"The government wouldn't dare!" I can also hear people say.

Well, in the words of Trade Minister Howe, "Who is there to stop us?"

The only real answer to Howe's question, asked in the Commons in another context, is that given by John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre, Sask.): "We, the people." And the only effective control we have over those who govern us is through our votes.

But in a matter like this the machinery which enables us to bring government to account maybe four years after the act is too slow and ineffective. With other issues crowding in, acceptance of the fait accompli might be the lesser of two evils.

Thus, if we are to have Canadians as our governors-general, it might be better to elect them, in the democratic tradition, with adequate safeguards so the elections will not be contested on party lines. An august body, a college of electors, could be formed to prepare a panel of qualified men and women for submission to the electorate at large.

But if we can't agree on that or some other plan to keep the governor-generalship out of politics, let's leave well enough alone.

Any Beds of Nails?

(From The Edmonton Journal)

WE learn with some misgiving that a German in Karlsruhe has just won the "hunger world record" by fasting in a glass cage for 66 days and four hours. He outlasted the previous champion, an Italian, who reached for the towel or should one say the napkin?—after 61 days.

Such feats sound more like India than Europe, and in fact they are part of a wave of Oriental cultism which seems to be sweeping over the western world. In France various citizens have let themselves be buried alive and have emerged unharmed days later, thanks to the power of some mysterious eastern formula. Devotees of the mystical Indian practises known as yogi are now legion in Europe and America. Some years ago an American fighter even invoked yogi to win the world's heavyweight championship—until his cosmic meditations were rudely interrupted by a right hook from Joe Louis.

Ironically enough, while this is going on, India and other Oriental countries are turning their backs on these ancient beliefs and eagerly studying western science. Is this the beginning of a trend—the westernization of the East and the Orientalization of the West?

So far these tendencies have not reached western Canada, but no one can say how long our immunity will last. Who knows—a few centuries from now brisk Indian tourists may stop off in Edmonton to see the snake-charmers perform their weird Occidental rites in the quaint Canadian bazaars.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

THE only objection one can have to these 25c pocket books that you see stacked up in tiers in every drug store, railroad station and newsstand is their covers. And the objection is not to their salacious, sexy artwork, either.

The objection, in fact, is that the covers bear no reference whatever to the story inside the book. You see a picture of a beautiful blonde in a nightie, her face contorted with lovely agony as she is being dragged backwards against a crimson velvet curtain by a great hairy arm, the fist of which clutches a blood-dripping dagger.

So you buy the book. And what is the story all about? A brunette, who is a clerk in an insurance office, who never gets into the slightest trouble of any kind for the entire 200 measly pages, except that she doesn't know whether to marry George, who is bound to rise to head clerk in the accounting department, or Joe, who is destined to be chief elevator starter. So she marries Bill, another guy who comes into the story about page 180, who not only hasn't a dagger, who never hid behind a crimson velvet curtain in his life, and who not only hasn't got hairy arms, but hasn't got any hair on his chest.

Not a blonde in the whole book, except on the cover! To say that there are no good pocket books would be absurd. You can see all sorts of people, intellectuals, executives, lawyers, deeply engrossed in these miniature masterpieces. In fact, you do not often see anyone reading anything with greater fascination.

There was a time in the history of publishing, when publishers employed the contents of a book as its chief selling point. The art of merchandising, however, has intruded into all industries. Packaging has become a science founded on psychology. The cover of a book need have no more relation to the contents than the color on a package of breakfast food has to do with its contents. Both have to have a crunchy appeal.

Black Market

By STEPHEN COULTER, From Paris

SIX years after the end of the war, the French government is losing fantastic sums in revenue each year through black market deals. In one product alone, skins and hides, black markets are working almost $200,000,000 worth of frauds annually, and farmers are sharing in huge, illicit profits. Disclosure of the traffic has caused a national scandal, and is one reason why the French cabinet is drafting new measures to check wholesale tax dodging.

Clandestine killings of livestock are almost as numerous as during the war, when French farmers slaughtered their beasts to keep food from the Germans. No fewer than 1,500,000 calfskins go into the black market each year, as well as 2,500,000 sheep, goat and other skins, and 800,000 larger hides. These skins and hides go to make 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 pairs of black-market shoes, on which no tax is paid, and which net racketeers quick fortunes.

By French law, a farmer who wants to kill a cow or bull for butcher's meat must pay a total of $42 in taxes, but French farmers dodge these taxes by not declaring the correct number of beasts they have slaughtered. A tip to the slaughterhouse "friend" puts everything right, and the farmer can still sell his carcass easily, because it is $42 cheaper than that on which the full tax has been paid. The meat, of course, also goes to the black market.

The slaughtered animal supplies a skin or hide which does not officially exist, and which is snapped up by racketeers, who dodge more taxes by not giving the farmer an official receipt when they buy the hide, thus escaping the tax on business turnover.

The black marketeers find tanneries which are willing to share in illegal profits by treating the undeclared hides—also without giving receipts for the money paid. The hides then are slipped into leather works, where they are made into boots, shoes, handbags, luxury leather goods—none of which pays the legal tax.

This sort of mass fraud on taxes is one basic reason why the French government is unable to pay for its rearmament program, why France is clamoring for a bigger share of United States dollar aid than Britain, and why roaring inflation is adding to political instability across the Channel.

Nature

As a fond mother, when the day is o'er,
Leads by the hand her little child to bed,
Half willing, half reluctant to be led,
And leave his broken playthings on the floor,
Still gazing at them through the open door,
Nor wholly reassured or comforted
By promises of others in their stead,
Which, though more splendid, may not please him more;
So Nature deals with us, and takes away
Our playthings one by one, and by the hand
Leads us to rest so gently, that we go
Scarce knowing if we wish to go or stay,
Being too full of sleep to understand
How far the unknown transcends that what we know.

Victoria I.W.A. Local Recommends Demand for 50 Cents an Hour Boost

By BILL MAVOR

A 50-cent-an-hour wage boost and paid statutory holidays have been recommended as a pattern for negotiations by the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

The recommendations were made by Local 1-118, Victoria, at its annual meeting Sunday.

Resolutions passed will be sent to the district convention at Vancouver later this month.

The wage resolution also called for a one-cent-an-hour wage increase for each one-point rise in the cost-of-living index, to be reviewed each three months.

Profits of lumber industry firms, particularly those of H. R. MacMillan Export Co., were cited as sufficient reason for a 50-cent increase.

Also passed was a resolution that the policy committee be instructed to include all cost-of-living bonuses being paid as of Jan. 1 in new wage scales.

A resolution directing the policy committee to consider making a major demand for all paid statutory holidays was carried with enthusiastic support.

The annual meeting also resolved to be made to negotiate an additional seniority clause in the master agreement that would reduce hours, enabling all employees to share equally work available during periods of curtailed production.

The resolution pointed out that the present interpretation prevents sharing of available work in curtailed working periods.

Delegates voted against a resolution calling for the federal government to resume trade with China.

Speakers against the motion said any lumber supplies shipped to China would certainly become part of a war machine.

A scathing attack was made on the General Teamsters' Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) for its recent signing of a contract with Stewart & Hudson Ltd., retail lumber firm currently on the unfair list of both C.C.L. and T.L.C. councils.

"Organizations of this kind do more to smash conditions than any anti-union boss. It is the local officer's opinion that some day we will have to take these phony unions on, before they wreck conditions already established," the officer's report said.

The C.C.L. charges the Teamsters' signed a contract at wages substandard.

A Colonist reporter admitted to the meeting by a unanimous vote of more than 80 delegates, was the first reporter to be allowed to attend a local meeting.

I.W.A. Local to Finish Elections

Balloting will begin Thursday among 1,000 members of Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) for election of officers to three positions.

The offices of president, third vice-president, recording secretary, conductor and warden were filled by acclamation at the local's annual meeting Sunday.

Jack MacKenzie was returned as president for his second term.

He also was elected business agent, replacing financial secretary Roy Whittle.

Also elected by acclamation were Ranjit Singh, third vice-president; Samuel Cook, recording secretary; Norman Salisbury, conductor; Robert Anderson, warden.

Elections will fill the posts of first vice-president, being contested by Charles Crockett and Jack Smirl; second vice-president, Jim Maher and S. A. Muir; secretary-treasurer, Edwin Haw and Leo Rowney; and three-year trustee term, E. Knott and G. Williams.

The secretary-treasurer also was the post of organizer being abolished.

Ranjit Singh was named Local 1-118 safety director.

Nine delegates to the district convention at Vancouver January 29 to February 1 are G. Van Humbick, J. Fitzmaurice, J. Peace, S. A. Muir, R. Singh, E. Haw, J. MacKenzie, G. Williams, R. Anderson; alternates J. Smirl and E. Rolls.

B.C. Federation of Labor at Vancouver February 2 and 3 will have as Local 1-118 delegates W. White and R. Singh.

Safety conference delegates are V. Redlick and G. Williams.

Delegates to Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.) are R. Singh, E. Haw, E. Rolls, J. MacKenzie, R. Anderson, J. Maher, L. Stillings, S. Muir, J. Peace and J. Trautman.

Chairman Will Report To Imperial Veterans

Capt. H. M. Talbot-Lehmann, M.C., Vancouver, chairman of the Imperial Veterans' Action Committees in Canada, will address the annual meeting of the Victoria branch at the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Hall, Wharf Street, at 8 p.m. Friday.

He will report on work done by the organization during 1951 and give a summary of the position today as it affects Imperial pensioners and veterans resident in Canada.

Major H. C. Holmes, a member of the action committees, said it was hoped all Imperial veterans would attend this meeting.

He added that the organization was formed a year ago to aid the "dire position of Imperials resident in Canada, due to the devaluation of the pound and the rise in the cost of living."

Capt. Talbot-Lehmann is a retired regular of the Essex Regiment, the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Air Force.

Hatcher Reports Good Start

Leonard Hatcher, civil defense co-ordinator for Greater Victoria, feels he is beginning the New Year in the proper manner. He reported yesterday he was starting between 250 and 300 new people on Part I civil defense training this week.

First class was held last night at headquarters. Another, mostly Yarrow's workers, will be held there tonight. Wednesday there are two afternoon classes and one evening class. Thursday there will be a class at Colwood and another class running concurrently at headquarters, Fisgard Street.

APPOINTED FOR SECOND YEAR

Word has just been received in Victoria that the Sands Mortuary Limited has again been appointed as the member of the Order of the Golden Rule in this community.

The Order of the Golden Rule, as many of our readers may know, is an international affiliation of funeral directors having certain high ideals of service, and rigid ethical standards.

Membership is not permanent, and may be revoked at any time by the Order. Each year affiliation with the Order automatically expires, and the record of each member for the preceding year is then taken into consideration before he is again accepted into this fellowship.

We feel that Victoria is to be congratulated upon having a funeral directing organization capable of being twice appointed to uphold the high ideals of the Order in this community.

The Symbol of the Order, by which one may, in nearly any community, identify the local member, represents a knight in full armor, supporting with his right hand a shield, upon which is emblazoned the motto of the Order: "Service Measured not by GOLD but by the GOLDEN RULE." In his left hand the knight grasps a drawn sword, as though to signify his readiness to defend the sentiment his shield expresses.

Wall Street Takes Dip For First Time in 1952

By AP and CP

The New York stock market turned downward yesterday for the first time in the new year.

A surprising about-face late in the session chipped away at early gains and carried many issues into the losing column.

The selling wave came out of the blue as steady gains were being registered throughout the list.

The net result was a loss of 50 cents at $99.30 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

Volume was 1,540,000 shares.

The Toronto stock exchange's western oil index climbed steadily to record highs toward the session's close.

Sparked by reports of strikes in Alberta and Saskatchewan, oil issues dominated trading as speculators concentrated on a broad, selected list.

Trading picked up to the most active pace in about a month. Volume was about 3,000,000 shares.

Industrials made little headway. Liquors and banks drew most support. Utilities and retail stores weakened. Manufacturing companies, agricultures and textiles held firmly to earlier advances.

Base metals edged upward. Senior golds were mixed.

Modest support from the opening held stock prices in irregularly higher ground despite sectional weakness near the close on the Montreal stock exchange and curb market.

Beverages and senior oils were stronger. Senior metals and miscellaneous industrials edged upward.

Papers and utilities held gains and losses in balance. Steels lost ground in early afternoon trade. Carriers and banks were unchanged.

Prices were generally steady on the Vancouver stock market but trading was slow. Western oils closed higher with base metals mixed and golds steady.

Prices generally were lower during most of the session on the Winnipeg grain exchange, although barley and flax moved up in late trading.

An easier tone on United States markets prompted some selling.

Debate Flares Over Hours In Wall Street

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (CP)—The Wall Street financial community is in the midst of the bitterest debate in more than a decade over the question of trading hours on the New York stock exchange.

Not since the great government-inspired reforms of the 1930's has Wall Street been split into so many fighting factions.

The arguments primarily are on two questions:

Shall trading hours be changed?

Shall the stock exchange remain open on Saturdays?

The New York stock exchange now is open for trading from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to noon Saturdays. During June, July, August and September it is closed Saturdays.

A decision is expected at a meeting of the board of governors Jan. 24.

Specifically, the meeting will decide on Saturday closing all year; a package plan for closing on Saturdays plus extension of trading hours on week-days; and elimination of certain holidays. The extension of daily hours would be to 3.30 p.m.

Saskatchewan Well Tests Indicate 675 Barrels Daily

REGINA, Jan. 7 (CP).—Socony Vacuum Exploration Ltd., driller of west-central Saskatchewan's new medium oil discovery well, today reported that latest tests over a one-hour period indicate the well is capable of producing 675 barrels daily.

Company officials said, however, that the flow could not be expected to continue at this rate for very long.

The oil, well within the medium class at 24 degrees, took 29 minutes to climb the 3,000 feet to the surface.

Meanwhile, the provincial bureau of publications said an oil-producing zone 61 feet thick has been proven so far in the Socony Western Prairie Roseray No. 1 wildcat well, in the Swift Current district near the Alberta border.

This is about double the thickness originally discovered last Thursday. Drilling — down to 3,126 feet today — is continuing through oil-bearing sand.

The 61-foot pay zone is believed to compare favorably with the oil thickness in the recently-found heavy crude field at Coleville, farther north.

London Market Oil-Conscious

LONDON, Jan. 7 (Reuters)—Speculators turned their attention to oil shares today and their efforts created some useful rises in leading issues.

Reassessment, New Sewers Reeve's Program for Saanich

Continuation of drainage and reassessment schemes and commencement of a sewer program were asked of the 1952 Saanich council by Reeve Joseph Casey in his inaugural address last night.

Drainage and reassessment plans are beginning to bear fruit, he said. The mill in 1951 brought $14,000 and this year will bring over $15,000, the reeve said.

He would ask council for money to continue reassessment, he said.

He hoped for a start on a sewer scheme, noting that in the past two years two-inch pipe had been renewed with a larger pipe.

In welcoming the council, Reeve Casey said he "hoped the deliberations will end in better government for the municipality. I hope no one takes anything personal. Each can express himself as he wishes."

"I would ask everyone to work for the municipality as a whole, not for any one section or a group."

Sworn in were councillors L. H. Passmore, H. K. Bate, Roy H. Wootten and G. Stanely Eden. Reeve Casey was sworn in last week.

Saanich to Protest B.C.E. Boost

Saanich council has passed a motion to protest the B.C. Electric Railway Co. proposed residential electricity rate increases.

The motion was moved at a meeting last night by Councillor L. H. Passmore and seconded by Clr. E. P. Cummins.

"I feel the municipality is entitled to protest" said Clr. Passmore. "The municipality has two transportation lines serving it and it has been acknowledged by the B.C. Electric that its transportation system is subsidized by electric rates."

Therefore people in the Vancouver Island Coach Lines area are helping pay for B.C. Electric bus service, he added. People in outlying areas are paying full cost on tariffs, subsidizing transportation of inner areas.

Clr. Passmore suggested the municipality go before the Public Utilities Commission urging transportation and lighting systems be kept as separate entities.

Clr. H. K. Bate commented that the application appeared as if the people would pay the B.C. Electric extra income tax the latter half of this year, the tax appearing to have been placed as an extra cost.

Advice Will Be Sought On Building Permit Fee

Legal advice will be sought by Saanich council as to whether it can collect a building permit fee from a contractor on a provincial government building.

Council decided its move after a hearing with George Wheaton, contractor for the $250,000 addition to Victoria Normal School. The building is under contract by the provincial public works department.

The permit fee in question is approximately $500. A Victoria city fee for a comparable building, at the time the contract was let, was $172, Mr. Wheaton noted.

He had expected to pay a fee on the addition, but had not estimated anything like that sought in Saanich, Mr. Wheaton said. He expressed the opinion that the municipal building by-law was not meant for such a building as that under construction but rather for frame residential dwellings.

Mr. Wheaton noted that while his company had applied for special consideration on the permit fee last year and was rejected, a Vancouver firm had received consideration on the Department of Veterans' Affairs Hospital.

Finance Body Headed By Passmore

Councillor L. H. Passmore heads Saanich council finance committee for 1952.

He will be assisted by Clrs. H. K. Bate and Mrs. Grace Shaw.

Members of other committees, with chairman named first, are: Lands, Clr. Bate, Clr. E. P. Cummins, Clr. Shaw; works, Reeve Joseph Casey, Clr. Passmore and Clr. G. Stanley Eden; municipal parks, Clr. Shaw, Clr. Cummins and Clr. Eden; building, Clr. Cummins, Clr. Passmore and Clr. R. H. Wootten; fire and water, Reeve Casey and Clr. Cummins and Clr. Bate; sewer and drainage, Clr. Passmore, Clr. Bate and Clr. Eden; health and social welfare, Mrs. Shaw, Clr. Wootten and Clr. Eden; light, power and transportation, Reeve Casey, Clr. Passmore and Clr. Wootten; Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks, Reeve Casey, Clr. Shaw, Clr. Cummins and Clr. Wootten.

Austin Renamed To Cemetery Board

Former councillor George Austin has been reappointed Saanich delegate to Greater Victoria Cemetery Board.

Council last night also named Clrs. H. K. Bate and R. H. Wootten as members to Greater Victoria Civil Defense Control Board committee. Clr. E. P. Cummins was named to Greater Victoria Celebrations Association, while Reeve Joseph Casey will be delegate to Greater Victoria Water Board.

Free Book on Arthritis and Rheumatism

How to Avoid Crippling Deformities

An amazing newly enlarged 44-page book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it.

It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proven successful for the past 33 years.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 5228, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

Home-Builder To Be Asked To Raze Work

A Saanich resident, building a home on Cadillac Avenue, will be asked by municipal council to tear down the present partly-constructed building and store the material.

Council heard that the building has been under construction for four years but that the owner is financially unable to proceed with the work.

The motion was presented by Councillor G. Stanley Eden.

Financial Loss Still Cutting Milk Output

Milk production on Vancouver Island, already dropping seriously, will continue to drop if producers have to continue operating at a loss, Henry G. Robinson, secretary-manager of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association said yesterday.

"We would rather see feed prices go down than see increased milk prices," he said.

The shortage also is aggravated by naturally lower production in winter, he said. More and more milk is being landed at Nanaimo and Victoria from the Mainland.

An application from the association for a public hearing on costs, submitted in November, has not been acted upon yet by the milk board. The application was not for an increase in price, Mr. Robinson added.

Seattle Singer To Give Recital In City Church

Leon C. Jones, Seattle dramatic bass-baritone, will appear in recital at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Jones, a Negro, is said to be a baritone of exceptional talent and is an advanced student at the Cornish Conservatory in Seattle.

He was a featured soloist with the Metropolitan a Capella Radio Choir for two years and was presented in recital in 1944 by the United Service Clubs of Honolulu.

Mr. Jones will give a recital of sacred, classical and negro spiritual songs in the church following the Sunday evening service.

Blast Furnaces at Stelco's Hamilton Works smelt iron ore, coke and limestone to produce pig iron.

THE TASK OF MAKING MORE STEEL — STELCO — NEVER STOPS

Facts about STEELMAKING

Stelco's new Blast Furnace will be as large as any unit of its kind —anywhere in the world!

Blast Furnaces produce pig iron, also gas in tremendous volume, used as fuel in producing and processing steel.

Slag, which results from pig iron production, is used to make rock wool insulation and for many other purposes.

● Every day, Canadian industry devours huge quantities of steel. Every day, like Oliver Twist, industry reaches out hungrily for more, still more! What is being done about it, at Stelco?

For one thing, Stelco is working night and day at building a huge new Blast Furnace. When completed, it will add an additional 1400 tons per day to the vast river of pig iron already pouring from Stelco furnaces. This is vitally important, because pig iron is the indispensable ingredient in the production of quality steel in large tonnages.

More than $50,000,000 are being invested by Stelco to provide for greatly increased Canadian steel production. The new Blast Furnace is just one phase of this huge Stelco expansion program . . . a program "Canadian to the core," and designed to give steel-hungry industries the materials they must have to "grow on" for a stronger and more productive Canada tomorrow.

Kerrisdale Edged, 5-4 By Nanaimo

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7 (CP)—Nanaimo Clippers broke a five-game losing streak tonight by edging Kerrisdale Monarchs, 5-4, in a Pacific Coast Senior Ama-

Kerrisdale Arena.

The victory hiked Nanaimo's lead over Kerrisdale to 12 games.

The game was highlighted by a first-period brawl. Nanaimo's Red Carr and Kerrisdale's Len Mutcheson were fighting for a puck against the boards when Carr brought his stick up against Mutcheson's head. Mutcheson knocked Carr to the ice and piled on top of him. Both got major and 10-minute misconduct penalties.

Nanaimo—Jackson; Brown, Kirk; McDonald, Pennell, Lundmark, Suter—O'Hara. Defense, Carr, Miller, Grubba, Rowledge, Ferguson, Berry.

Kerrisdale—Bartlett; Ritchie, Leek; Vickery, Wilson, Rittinger, Suhr, H. Lovett, Leach, G. Schmidt, Chmiel, Sims, Mutcheson, G. Lovett.

First Period—1, Kerrisdale, Schmidt (Chmiel) 40; 2, Nanaimo, O'Hara (Berry) 3.14; 3, Kerrisdale, Rittinger (Suhr) 4.17; 4, Nanaimo, Ferguson (Rowledge, Miller) 9.00; 5, Nanaimo, Perry (Pennell, Kirk) 11.43; 6, Kerrisdale, Ritchie (Chmiel, H. Lovett) 17.30. Penalties: Mutcheson (major and 10-minute misconduct), Carr (major and 10-minute misconduct).

Second Period—7, Nanaimo, Defelice 12.12; 8, Nanaimo, Carr (Defelice) 17.08. Penalties: Pennell.

Third Period—9, Kerrisdale, Leek (Lynch, H. Lovett) 16.52. Penalties: Berry, Brown.

Goalie a Standout for Mercantile Leaders

Fine job in nets by Phil Bremner at Memorial Arena last night helped 7-Ups to increase lead in Commercial Hockey League to three points with 3-1 win over Merchants. Here, Bremner kicks out close-in drive from Ab Taylor, who has teammate Ken Gunter parked at side of goal. Jim Neilson, 7-Ups defenseman is alongside Gunter while Ron Bremner, extreme left, is on his way to help.

Merchants Let Manager Down As Leaders Skate to Victory

HOW THEY STAND

	W	L	T	F	A	Pts.
7-Ups	8	2	1	50	41	19
Merchants	7	3	1	40	30	15
Navy	5	4	1	44	41	11
Civil Service	4	5	1	41	48	9
Army	3	6	1	34	43	7
Individuals	3	7	1	37	46	7

Next games, tomorrow: Army vs. Civil Service, Victoria Merchants vs. Navy, Individuals vs. 7-Ups.

It was apparent at the Memorial Arena last night that 7-Ups had failed to heed about Lackie's prediction that his Merchants would unseat the pacesetters and move into first place in the Commercial Hockey League.

Showing complete disregard for Lackie's boast, the Bottlers skated to a convincing 3-1 win in a game which produced clean play in the first two frames and broke wide open in the last period.

SAILORS MOVE UP

Navy moved into undisputed possession of third spot with a 5-2 win over Civil Service, while Army and Individual Cleaners battled to a 2-2 deadlock in the opener.

7-Ups hit the score sheet early when Eddie Varga stickhandled around the defense and beat Ab Ellis cleanly with a low shot to the corner. Varga picked up his second counter at the six-minute mark to give the Bottlers a 2-0 first period edge.

Rudy Pishko put the Merchants back in the game at the four-minute mark of the second frame when his slap shot skidded under goalie Phil Bremner's skate.

LAUREE GETS WINNER

Norm Lacree put the game on ice for the winners early in the third period with a screened shot that gave Ellis no chance.

The fireworks broke out midway through the final frame when Merchants' Coulter was banished for charging and received a 10-minute misconduct for arguing the point with referee Bill Hatcher. Elphick received a misconduct for arguing and the Merchants were given another misconduct for banging their sticks against the boards.

Hatcher called a total of 54 minutes in penalties throughout the affair.

It was the third straight win for the Bottlers over the Merchants, each meeting with first place at stake.

Navy was full value for its win over the Servants. The sailors backchecked the G-men to a standstill.

They jumped into a 2-0 first period lead and never looked back, scoring their third and fourth markers while playing a man short. Shedlowski paced the winners with a pair of goals while Standley picked up a goal and an assist.

Army had to come from behind a two-goal deficit for its one point. The Cleaners led 2-0 at the end of the first stanza on goals by Harris and Cunningham, but the Soldiers knotted the count in the third period on markers by Rostek and Vary, the latter at 19.34 with Army goalie Red Lange out of the nets in favor of a fifth attacker.

INDIVIDUALS 3, ARMY 3

First Period—1, Individuals, Harris (Kowalski) 4.26. Penalties—Stewart, Harris.

Second Period—2, Individuals, Cummingham (Stelle) 8.01. Penalties, Boettcher, Vary, Kowalski, Stewart.

Third Period—3, Army, Rostek 5.50; 4, Army, Vary (Gill) 19.34. Penalties, Kowalski, Hunter 2, Elliott 2, Stewart, Morris, Stelle.

CIVIL SERVICE 2, NAVY 5

First Period—1, Navy, Hill (Standley) 39; 2, Navy, Shedlowski (Ellis) 9. Penalties, Hill, Johnson.

Second Period—None. Penalties, LaPointe, McLean, Johnson, Kay.

Third Period—3, Navy, Standley 10; 4, Civil Service, Morris (Stewart, Thomas) 2.55; 5, Navy, Shedlowski (Hill) 4.35; 6, Navy, Wood (Brown) 10.27. Civil service goalie, Carter; Navy goalie, Bremner. Major, LaPointe. Bird 2. Stewart, Bartlett, Berry.

MERCHANTS 4, SEVEN-UPS 3

First Period—1, Seven-Ups, Varga (Neilson, Ab Taylor) 2.00; 2, Seven-Ups, Varga 8.04. Penalties, Elliott 2, Coulter, Bacon.

Second Period—3, Merchants, Pishko 4.04. Penalties, None.

Third Period—4, Seven-Ups, Larmer 4.34. Penalties, Atwood 2, Coulter (two minors, 10-minute misconduct), Berry, Bremner, Gunter, Bartlett 2, Oliver. Minor penalty misconducts, Reinecke (10-minute misconduct).

Sydney Newspapers Rap Aussie Amateur Tennis

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 7 (AP)—Two Sydney newspapers today published sharp criticism of the Australian system of amateur tennis which has kept Davis Cup star Frank Sedgman from turning professional.

Reference was to the public subscription of funds to provide a cash "wedding gift" for Frank and his fiancee Jean Spence when they are married Jan. 30. The fund now totals about £4000.

Alan Hulls, sports columnist for the Sunday Sun, said that the affair makes amateur tennis "look more phony than ever." The Sunday Truth said the "Sedgman story spells the end so far as the general public is concerned of the hokus pokus in which amateurism in Australia loves to bury its head."

Truth estimated that the wedding fund being sponsored by newspapers here and in Melbourne and Adelaide eventually will reach at least £10,000.

"Undoubtedly one of the world's greatest tennis players, Sedgman also will be one of the richest amateurs ever to wield a racquet," the paper said. "Sedgman has no cause other than to be absurdly happy at his windfall."

Hulls commented that, as long as Sedgman is a full-time tennis player, he deserves to be recompensed adequately, "but the circumstances by which he is being kept a technical amateur once again expose the whole hypocrisy of the setup."

Summing up, Truth said "If one fact is plain in the Sedgman story it is this: Money over the counter or from under the counter is all powerful."

Dorohoy Holds Point Lead; Rivals Halted

Victoria's Eddie Dorohoy retained his one-point lead in the Pacific Coast Hockey League's individual scoring race as his five nearest pursuers failed to pick up a point during the week end games.

Dorohoy has 46 points, one more than Saskatoon's Alex Kaleta and Calgary's George Agar, and two more than Seattle's Joe Bell and Vancouver's Roy Manson.

Frank Kubasek, Edmonton centre, picked up two goals and an assist at Seattle Sunday to move into a sixth-place tie with Tacoma's Doug Adam and New Westminster's Ollie Dorohoy, with 36 points.

Burke, Harrison and Bolt to Play Off For Top Money in Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7 (AP)—The dramatic combination of a missed putt, a spectacular approach shot and a stretch charge sent the 26th annual Los Angeles open golf tournament into a three-way tie late today and a playoff for the top money of the $17,500 purse.

Jack Burke, Jr., missed the putt, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison came through with the magnificent approach shot, and Tommy Bolt supplied the charge down to the wire that sent all three into the 18-hole playoff tomorrow.

The trio wound up with 289 strokes apiece for the 72-hole distance, the highest total registered in this winter classic since Denny Shute required 296 blows in the rain-drenched 1940 tournament over this same course, Riviera Country Club.

MISSES FIVE-FOOTER

Burke, a veteran of tournament play despite his 28 years, missed a five-foot putt for a par four on the 18th green as the assembled thousands in the stands let loose a groan of sympathy.

Harrison, the old-timer from St. Andrews, Ill., ignited a belated fuse when his shot to the green struck and rolled up two feet from the pin.

And Bolt, 32-year-old newcomer to tournament fame, came from far back to cut down first one, then another in the final five holes and land a place in the rich playoff.

Burke and Bolt thus ended the last 18 holes of the treacherous par 35-36—71 course with 72 apiece, and the 41-year-old Harrison got in with a 74.

The three were the survivors of a six-way battle that began at noon and left the other three, Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Jim Ferrier, Canadian open champion from San Francisco, to finish in the immediate runner-up class.

Kroll, a 32-year-old dark horse, whose 68 Sunday was the lowest of the present tournament, started with a one-stroke lead over Harrison. His 76 today left him with 290 and the No. 1 runner-up spot.

Ferrier and Burnum, with 73 and 74 respectively, finished in a tie at 292 with Skee Riegel of Tulsa, who scored a 70.

Nestled uncomfortably at 300 after his worst time in the tournament, was the favorite and 1948 and 1950 winner, Lloyd Mangrum, with a final round of 76.

Murph's Heave Pays Off--Providence Protest Lost

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7 (AP)—Maurice Podoloff, president of the American Hockey League, tonight overruled two protests filed after games within the last week.

One protest concerned two pucks on the ice at one time and the other a goal scored while a fight was in progress.

Rejected by Podoloff after a meeting of the league's board of governors were protests posted by Cleveland Barons after they lost to Pittsburgh 3-2 Saturday, and by Providence after it lost 4-3 to Buffalo Thursday.

Providence disputed Buffalo's victory because one of its goals was not allowed on the grounds there were two pucks on the ice.

With one member of the Buffalo Club already in the penalty box, referee Walton Russell called penalties on two other Bisons.

Murph Chamberlain—new Buffalo coach—then threw a puck across the rink and hit the referee on the back, trying to attract his attention.

Russell blew his whistle as soon as he saw there were two pucks going. At the same time Ray Powell fired a goal for Providence. Russell did not allow the score. Providence protested the second-period decision after losing in a 10-minute overtime.

The other protest was by Jim Hendy, the Cleveland general manager, who contended Pittsburgh scored the winning goal during a fight which should have halted play.

"The rule is that play proceeds until the puck changes hands except in cases where the referee sees that a player is seriously injured," Podoloff said. "According to the evidence, there was nothing involved except the judgment of the referee, Maurice Walsh."

Woodworkers Take Lead In Cage Final

Bayview Woodworkers took a one-game lead in the best-of-three final series for the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League's senior "B" men's championship by defeating Gordon Head All-Blacks, 30-29, at the Esquimalt Athletic Hall last night.

Bernie Clarkson scored only two baskets in the game, but his second proved to be the winner. He sank the shot with three minutes to go and neither team was able to score again.

It was the Woodworkers' 15th straight—and closest—triumph this season.

Line-ups follow:

All-Blacks—Don McGee 16, Don McGee 2, F. Ball 3, Gerry Emery 12, H. Atkinson, B. Bennett, D. Wasslyn. Total—29.

Woodworkers—Joe Bryant 4, Bill Duncan 8, Nick Smith 4, Bernie Clarkson 4, Archie Browning 8, Bonny Patterson, Whitey Beverson. Total—30.

Mary Chayko Monopolizes Fivepin Honors

Mary Chayko walked off with all the women's bowling honors while bowling at the Capital City Bowladrome over the week end.

Bowling for The Sojs in the city major fivepin league, Mrs. Chayko rolled games of 403, 222 and 266 for an 891 total. Her three-game mark bests her own 888 for the women's all-time record at the Bowladrome while her opening 403 score is the new women's single mark.

Mrs. Chayko received a $25 award from the alleys for her high single and became the first to cash in on the special prizes currently at stake for games of 400 or more.

Her three-game total is high for the season at the Bowladrome.

Phil Smith, manager of the alleys, believes that the high single and the high three-game total are new women's records for Victoria.

Paul Not Coming

Any hopes that Victoria Cougars might get Paul Masnick vanished yesterday with the announcement that the ex-Regina Pat centre was being sent to Cincinnati on loan by Montreal Canadiens.

Masnick, who played most of last season with Canadiens and was sent to Buffalo this season, reportedly refused to play in the P.C.H.L.

Bout Denied By Manager

SEATTLE, Jan. 7 (AP)—Manager Jack Hurley denied tonight that Harry (Kid) Matthews' next fight would be in Portland against Danny Nardico.

Promoter Tex Salkeld said early in the day that a tentative agreement has been reached for such a fight.

Matthews met Nardico a month ago in Cleveland and gained a 10-round decision.

Gordie Howe Moves Close To Canyen Duo

The Montreal Canadiens teammates maintained their hold on the first two places in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Elmer Lach, who went pointless during the week-end and leads the roster in the assist column 28—holds top spot with 37 points. Maurice (Rocket) Richard Saturday scored his 21st goal of the season—tops in the league—and is a point behind Lach.

Detroit Red Wings' Gordie Howe, who scored a goal Sunday night and assisted in another, threatens to take over the lead.

Vets Finally End Lengthy Deadlock

Army, Navy and Air Force Vets captured first-half honors in Division II of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association by whipping Harris Cycles, 7-2, in a sudden-death game at Upper Beacon Hill Sunday.

The Vets' win broke a deadlock between the teams which has existed since Nov. 18. They have met six times previous to Sunday's contest, winning once, losing once and tying four times.

Norman Curran supplied the scoring punch in the Vets' attack with four goals. Ronald Thornthwaite, Noel Boston and Gordon Sillars scored the others for the winners. Bill Abbott and Ken Todd scored for the Cycles.

The game threatened to turn into another draw as the clubs battled to a 2-2 draw in the first half.

Heaneys, displaying the form that enabled them to take first-half honors in the junior division, blanked Cowichan Braves, 3-0.

Heaneys took the three-goal margin in the first half on markers by Art Dawe, Francis Evans and Gary Webster.

The Braves received an excellent opportunity to spoil a shutout in the second half when they were awarded a penalty kick. They missed and, on a technicality, were ordered to retake the spot kick. With a fine demonstration of sportsmanship, centre forward Joe Joe deliberately kicked the ball wide of the net.

Tillicums, first-half winners in Division I, scored a 2-0 victory over Maycock Optical as play began in the second half.

Flyers, Ironmen Tie Penalty Record In Brawly Affair at Seattle Sunday

Calgary	38	13	20	5	126	157	30
Vancouver	42	10	25	7	131	189	27

Next game, tonight, Tacoma at Saskatoon.

Edmonton's hard-hitting Flyers [illegible] second Coast invasion, which ended Sunday with a 4-4 tie at Seattle, but they certainly gave fans plenty of action.

Action reached a peak Sunday when the Flyers and Ironmen tied the league record of 84 minutes in penalties for one game, set by Tacoma and Portland on Oct. 12, 1948. Five players received face cuts in a brawly, argumentative affair which saw 19 penalties called, including a game misconduct, four misconducts, and two majors.

LAST DITCH GOAL

[illegible] littering the ice in protest over decisions of the busy referee, Dick Davis, particularly when a Seattle goal was disallowed 25 seconds from time. However, the Ironmen made it stick the second time when Jim Fairburn scored from a face-off with only 16 seconds left to salvage the tie.

All teams were inactive last night with this week's schedule getting under way tonight at Saskatoon, where Tacoma plays the first game of its second tour of the Prairie centres of the P.C.H.L. Single games are billed tomorrow and Thursday and Saturday round out a rather light week.

Victoria Cougars, dropped back to sixth place by Edmonton's tie at Seattle, open a rugged schedule Friday with their last home game until Jan. 22. The Ironmen provide the opposition Friday. The Cougars then play at New Westminster Saturday and Vancouver next Tuesday before embarking on their second swing of the eastern sector.

Coach Roger Leger will name his starting line-up after Thursday's workout. He said last night that showings in remaining workouts would determine at least two or three positions. However, he stated that Reg Abbott would remain between Bob Frampton and Andy Hebenton and that Doug Anderson would probably remain as pivotman for Joe Evans and Bob Ballance.

Flort Goegan, out over two months with a knee injury, has been working out but it may be some time, Leger said, before he will be in condition to give his knee a real test.

SEATTLE 4, EDMONTON 4

First Period—1. Seattle, Samanski (Homenuck, Richardson), 6.32. Penalties, Tomiuk, Fedorko, Maxwell, Joss, Thomas, Homenuck, Kilburn.

Second Period—2. Seattle, Greenlay (Maxwell), 3.40. 3. Edmonton, Thomas (Kilburn, Onaski), 5.35. 4. Edmonton, Onaski (Kowalski), 9.34. 5. Seattle, Richardson (Homenuck, Spencer), 12.06. Penalties, Cox, 4.52, McCaig, 10.01, Tomiuk, 11.14, Maxwell, 16.55 (plus game misconduct).

Third Period—6. Edmonton, Kowalski (Onaski), 4.24. 7. Edmonton, Kilburn (Johnson, McLean), 18.31. 8. Seattle, Fairburn (Morris, Greenlay), 19.44. Penalties, Fedorko (major and misconduct), McLean, 8.48 (major and misconduct), Morris, 8.48 (misconduct), Talbot, 8.48 (misconduct), Cox, 10.27, Hayes, Lyle 26, Brennan, 26.

Heaneys	0	3	1	5	11	1
Alcos	0	3	0	2	9	0

Three games will be played in the Victoria and District Football Association next week end, featured by a match between Esquimalt and Legion at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday.

Heaneys and Alcos will meet at Lower Beacon Hill Park in the other Saturday contest and Duncan Native Sons and Victoria City will play at the same grounds Sunday. All games will start at 2:30 p.m.

Legion took over sole possession of second place and moved within three points of first place by edging league-leading Victoria West, 2-1, at Lower Beacon Hill Sunday. It was West's first loss this half after four straight triumphs.

Legion took a 2-0 lead in the first canto. Ken Griffin put them ahead at the 19-minute mark and Jim Davidson scored from a corner kick 20 minutes later.

Shortly after the intermission Griffin and West's Doug Hudlin collided near the West goal. Griffin hurt his leg and had to leave the field. He returned five minutes later but his play was obviously hampered by the injury.

The losers pressed hard during the second half in a desperate effort to pull the game out of the fire. George Brown halved the margin at the 20-minute mark on a pass from Roy Speller.

John Moss, Legion goalie, thwarted any other West scoring aspirations for the remainder of the game with a brilliant display.

The game marked the first appearance in a Legion uniform of Bill Thomas, formerly with Vancouver City and New Westminster. The outside left gave a clever demonstration of ball control and should be a great help to his new team.

Germany Wants to Play But Nobody Calls Tune

BERLIN, Jan. 7 (AP)—Germany's first winter Olympics team since the war is short some equipment, officials admitted today. It lacks a tune.

The problem is complicated enough to be on the political level. Top German authorities of the Federal Republic in Bonn have been discussing it.

The issue arises because each nation will be greeted at the opening of the games in Oslo, Norway, in mid-February with its national anthem.

The only national anthem Germany has had for decades was "Deutschland Uber Alles" (Germany above all).

The Norwegians, who are unlikely to forget Quisling, Terboven and the occupation, have little enthusiasm for either playing or hearing any tune that reminds them of it.

Once forbidden by the Allies, the old anthem was revived in the past year or two without much opposition because the first verse with its unattractive words was replaced with the third stanza which did not boast of any German superiority.

The Norwegians take the position you can't expect a trumpet player to realize he is blowing the third verse.

The Germans, anxious to be correct, asked the Norwegians for advice. The Norse replied that it was a German problem and that's where it stands now.

Next game, tonight, Boston at Chicago.

New York Rangers strengthened their hold on the fourth and final playoff berth in the National Hockey League by edging Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2, before 11,654 fans at Madison Square Garden Sunday. The victory was the third in a row for New York.

In the other game Sunday, Detroit Red Wings scored three times in the final period once on an empty net to beat Boston Bruins, 4-2, at Detroit.

WINNER BY ROOKIE

Jack Stoddard, lanky right winger, made his first N.H.L. goal an important one as he provided the Rangers with their victory margin. Stoddard, who stands six feet, three inches and is the tallest forward in the league, came to the Rangers a week ago in a trade with Providence Reds. He was the leading scorer in the American Hockey League.

Play was enlivened in the Detroit-Boston game by a fight between Detroit's Ted Lindsay and Bill Ezinicki of Boston.

The pair, who were suspended for brawling at Detroit last season, started fighting near the Bruin bench. Two Boston players climbed over the boards to join the fray. Referee Bill Chadwick banished Lindsay and Ezinicki with major penalties and gave Ed Kryzanowski a 10-minute misconduct for joining the battle.

Lindsay starred on offense for the Wings, scoring their second and final goals. It snapped an eight-game slump in which the allstar left winger had failed to score. Gordie Howe started things off for Detroit with his 20th goal of the campaign.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

The importance of swinging your club down to the ball inside out across the direction line as pictured can't be stressed too strongly. A ball so hit, delivers the maximum of straight flight and at the far end of the shot such a ball has spin that gives a faint hook. And, after hitting the ground, overspin rolls the ball perhaps 10 or 15 extra yards. To make certain that you get an inside-out swing, you should think of starting your hands down slowly, from the top. And by down, I mean almost straight down. Your hip and shoulder pivot will carry the clubhead out and around. Again notice in this picture that with the head held fixed in the address position, our player's left shoulder is rotating upward, the left arm and club shaft are virtually straight and the right shoulder is rotating under the chin, while the uncocking hands are delivering full power to the ball.

Committee Recommends Abolishment Of Scholarships, Post-Season Games

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—A special sports committee of United States college presidents recommended tonight that all athletic scholarships be abolished and that football practice and games be limited to the period between Dec. 1 and March 15.

3. That baseball games and practice be confined to the period between March 1 and commencement.

4. That not only should no athlete be allowed to play on a Varsity team, but also that any transfer from a junior college should put in a year of residence before being allowed to play.

5. That scholarships should be given strictly on the basis of the student's educational ability and his needs.

6. That in no case should any scholarship be for more than the educational expenses at an institution.

Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College and chairman of the special committee set up by the American Council on Education, disclosed the plans at a press conference.

UP FOR APPROVAL

The new athletic code now goes to the executive committee of the council for ratification for approval or disapproval.

There is no indication how soon it will act, but Hannah told reporters previously that he hoped the sweeping new code would go into effect by the start of the next school year.

Earlier, Everett Barnes, Colgate baseball coach, sharply criticized pro baseball for raiding college teams. He also told the college presidents that no football players should be forced to go out for spring practice.

Neither pro football nor pro basketball, Barnes said, signs a player until he finishes his education, but he said that baseball will sign a player any time.

WANTS AGREEMENT

In arguing for an agreement with pro baseball to keep clubs from signing college athletes who still have eligibility left, Barnes made two points:

1. It should enable the boy to complete his education, and

2. The calibre of coaching the boy gets in college now is good enough that he will make as much progress there as he will in class "D" ball.

TELL THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A DODGE AND ANY OTHER TRUCK

WHEN YOU SEE these two words — "Job-Rated" — you know that the truck has been engineered by Dodge to fit a specific job. You know it's a Dodge truck because only Dodge builds "Job-Rated" trucks.

You will find there's a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck to fit your particular job. Every unit of this truck will be factory-engineered to haul your loads over the roads you travel and at the speeds you require.

All units which help support the load and all units which help move the load are "Job-Rated" to work together . . . to assure better performance, greater dependability. Your Dodge "Job-Rated" truck will carry your loads easier and faster . . . last longer . . . and save and make more money for you.

Position Difficult, Says Anscomb

The Conservative position in the Coalition had "sometimes been rather difficult," Hon. Herbert Anscomb, leader of the B.C. Conservatives and finance minister in the Coalition government, said in a radio address last night.

"Many things have come up that have not necessarily received our support in the sense of the political life of the country, but we recognize our responsibility as a democratic force and have given way to the majority," he said.

The Conservative leader traced his political history in the province beginning with his election as reeve of Oak Bay in 1924.

He said that contrary to some public opinion, the Conservatives were not rich men, but "very definitely a people's party."

Speaking again of the Coalition, he said: "It is very likely that at the expiration of the present arrangement, the two parties, (Conservative and Liberal) may be contesting the provincial election under their own political banners, in which case the Conservatives will be in the forefront of that battle."

The finance minister took as encouraging signs the return of the Conservative party in England, and closer to home, the "tremendous Conservative majority in the recent provincial election in Ontario."

The world's first steam railroad, using George Stephenson's locomotive, the Rocket, was opened in England in 1825.

Four Injured in Rash of Accidents; Police Department Has Busy Sunday

Four persons were injured in a series of accidents that kept city police busy nearly all day Sunday.

Early Sunday morning an accident at Scott and Ryan sent Mrs. M. Irvine, 70, 4285 Shelbourne, to Royal Jubilee Hospital with an injured arm, and Mrs. P. Watkinson, 70, North Vancouver, to hospital with head injuries.

Drivers of the cars involved were James W. Breton, 4285 Shelbourne, and Robert A. Flack, 809 Drake.

Later, a car driven by Leo Stratboh, 891 Snowdrop, suffered heavy damage in a collision with a lamp post at Belleville and Douglas. The lamp post was a total wreck, police said.

Sunday evening Mrs. Harriet Smith, 58, of 1807 Rebecca, was treated for possible leg fracture at Royal Jubilee Hospital following a collision with a car at Pandora and Chambers.

Police said the driver of the car was Helen V. Parkinson, 1235 Lyall.

Motorcyclist Donald Bissett, 511 Cecelia, was treated for head and leg injuries at Royal Jubilee Hospital following a collision with a car at Johnson and Government. Charles Gall, passenger on the machine, was not seriously hurt.

Driver of the car was Benjamin Birch, 116 Simcoe, according to police.

Liquor Sale Charge Brings Fine of $300

Jack Lim, 556 Fisgard, charged with selling liquor, was fined $300 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

Police said seven bottles of rum were found on the premises operated by Lim, who admitted they were for sale.

Michael Wasio, Albany Hotel, charged with assaulting Dr. William Bell, received a suspended sentence on the undertaking that he would enter into a bond of $500 for good behavior for six months and also that he would receive medical treatment immediately.

William Hynds, 575 Johnson, charged with common assault, was sentenced to the five days he had already spent in jail.

Robert Hayman, 2924 Blackwood, was convicted on a charge of careless driving, and fined $35.

Real Estate Agent Tries Defense Scare

Unscrupulous real-estate agents are urging people to sell their homes, threatening they will be taken over by the government for civil defense purposes, Leonard Hatcher, civil defense co-ordinator for Greater Victoria, warned yesterday.

"This is completely ridiculous," said Mr. Hatcher.

The co-ordinator received a phone call yesterday from a woman who said that a real estate agent had advised her to sell her house as it was "scheduled under civil defense for use by the government."

Mr. Hatcher hoped that any other home owners similarly threatened would telephone him immediately, preferably with the name of the agent in question.

The woman who called him yesterday was not able to get the real estate man's name.

WHERE IN THE WORLD IS THE MOST-PAINTED MOUNTAIN?

THERE are many strange things in the State of Texas and one of them is a mountain which is an island of rock and high school students in that state strange as it may seem, would just as soon paint a mountain. Mt. Franklin is the Texas Western College (the nightcap 1952 a group of students imbued with rah rah spirit painted a huge white "M" on the side of the mountain. Each year since undergrads repaint their "M" the college used to be called Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy. But the "M" is not alone. Surrounding it are an "A" "B" "C" "D" and "E" the hard work of students from high school throughout the commonwealth.

Armored Cars Fight Off Egyptian Surprise Attack

ISMAILIA, Egypt, Jan. 7 (Reuters). — R.A.F. armored cars today smashed an Egyptian terrorist ambush awaiting a convoy among the sand dunes of "Terror Alley" The Ismailia-Abu Suweir road.

The terrorists opened fire on the R.A.F. convoy with light machine-guns and rifles.

A battle broke out along a 500-yard stretch of the road and a second air force convoy following closely came under fire.

But escorting armored cars hit back, pouring lead among the sand dunes, and forced the attackers to run.

One R.A.F. car had its windshield shattered by the return fire but there were no casualties.

A British aircraftman was wounded in the leg and hand in another terrorist attack, this time on three R.A.F. vehicles traveling from Ismailia to Deversoir. The terrorists fled after a five-minute gun fight.

In Port Said, a lightning five-hour strike by 1,500 Suez Canal Company employees tied up all shipping there and delayed berthing of six Russian fishing trawlers. The Russian vessels, advance guard of a 33-ship fishing fleet, planned to pass through the canal on their way to Vladivostok.

Probe Started Of Huge Fire That Killed Six

WESTFIELD, Mass., Jan. 7 (AP). — Authorities tonight investigated reports of three explosions in the $1,000,000 fire that claimed six lives Sunday and destroyed a five-story brick apartment-business block.

Police quoted one of the rescued occupants as saying she heard at least two explosions. Others said they heard three blasts.

Fire officials said a search of the smoking debris for the dead will not be started until Tuesday because of the danger of collapse of the walls — all that remains of the structure.

Cries for help were heard three blocks away as residents of the doomed building fought their way out of the blazing inferno into the sub-freezing temperatures.

All floors collapsed into the basement in a tangled, blazing mass of wreckage, leaving erect only three partial, shaky walls.

Firemen poured water on the smouldering ruins more than 20 hours after the spectacular fire started.

Edmonton Man Drowns At Maillardville

MAILLARDVILLE, B.C., Jan. 7 (CP). — Jimmy McLeod, 58, a native of Edmonton, was drowned Sunday when he fell overboard from a scow into the Fraser River. His body was recovered.

Police said McLeod had quarters aboard the barge which was moored near this community, about 20 miles from Vancouver.

Austrians Protest Decision

VIENNA, Jan. 7 (Reuters). — Work stopped in Vienna this morning as thousands of workers streamed to a protest rally against a court decision to return vast family estates to ex-Prince Ernst Ruediger Starhemberg.

Starhemberg, 52, living in Argentina since the war, was founder-leader of the Hitler-style Heimwehr, which gave Austrian support to Austria's pre-Hitler dictator, Chancellor Dollfuss.

ERNST STARHEMBERG

After a long legal fight, Austria's highest administrative court decided to return to him under the restitution laws all of his 72 family estates throughout Austria which the Nazis confiscated in 1938.

Socialist and Communist parties called for a protest strike against the decision. Some experts believe the political turmoil might break the People's-Socialist coalition which has given Austria a more or less stable government for more than six years.

The protest, designed to shut down almost all Austrian industry for an hour, was reported most effective in the Communist-controlled outer suburbs of the city.

Thousands of people gathered before the parliament buildings carrying banners saying: "No money for Fascists."

Demonstrations broke up four hours after they started. Police guards were withdrawn from public buildings and Vienna's life returned to normal.

Reports from the Tyrol, Salzburg and Styria provinces said protest actions there went without incident.

Wanger Pleads Innocent In Jealousy Shooting

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7 (INS). — Producer Walter Wanger pleaded innocent today in the jealousy shooting of agent Jennings Lang over actress Joan Bennett and his attorney blamed temporary insanity for the gunplay which ended "in a bluish flash through a violet haze."

The 57-year-old Wanger pleaded "not guilty" to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Giesler, then requested an alternative plea of "not guilty by reason of temporary insanity."

Superior Judge Harry Borde of Santa Monica set Feb. 26 as the date of Wanger's trial.

Wanger, once the "first gentleman of Hollywood," admitted shooting Lang, 39, last Dec. 13 as he stood talking with Wanger's wife, Miss Bennett, in a Beverly Hills parking lot.

Wanger said he shot the younger and handsome Lang, who had been Miss Bennett's agent for 12 years, "because he was breaking up my home."

Giesler told newsmen Lang was shot as "the closing of a vicious circle of deception." The famed Hollywood attorney added:

"It culminated in a bluish flash through a violet haze, in the shadows of early evening in the parking lot where his wife's car was parked."

OLD CASE RECALLED

Giesler's statement indicated the attorney plans a dramatic fight to win his client's release.

His "bluish flash through a violet haze" statement recalled his celebrated "white flame" defense which won acquittal for Paul Wright years ago. Wright had been charged with murdering his wife and best friend.

In entering the temporary insanity plea, Giesler cited a California Supreme Court ruling that temporary insanity is as fully recognized as a defense as permanent insanity.

Judge Borde appointed three psychiatrists to examine Wanger.

Giesler told newsmen "Wanger proved his insanity was only temporary by staying on the scene after the shooting."

"The fact that this defendant fired low and that the gun contained other unused bullets, with ample opportunity on the defendant's part to fire, clearly demonstrated that the defendant was at that moment restored to full competency and normalcy."

Experts Probe Jet Wreckage

MONTREAL, Jan. 7 (CP). — An investigation team from Ottawa today combed the wreckage of a Vampire jet aircraft which crashed on takeoff Sunday, killing its R.C.A.F. pilot, FO. J. A. H. R. Rivest, 22. The plane plunged to the tarmac of nearby St. Hubert airport about 30 seconds after taking off.

Salmon Arm Schools Open for New Year

SALMON ARM, B.C., Jan. 7 (CP). — With the start of a new fiscal year, more than 500 pupils from Salmon Arm municipality went to classes today for the first time since Sept. 30.

School buses plowing through heavy snow and rutted side roads marked the end of a situation unparalleled in British Columbia history.

The tangle started last May when a board of arbitration ordered a slash in school board estimates which trustees said left them with insufficient funds to carry on.

Salmon Arm city council voted extra funds to enable city pupils to continue studies but the municipal council declared it could not raise the additional money to provide a full fall term for its pupils.

All schools opened for the September term but at the end of the month municipal pupils were denied further classroom education.

Ratepayers voted against a by-law which would have provided enough money to keep municipal schools open. It asked authorization of a tax levy of 11 mills to raise the $16,000 required.

Today's resumption of classes was possible, trustees explained, because a new fiscal year has started and costs will come from the 1952 school budget.

Mrs. Swannell Funeral Rites Set Thursday

Funeral services will be held at Sands Mortuary Ltd. at 1.15 p.m. Thursday for Mrs. Ada Swannell, 67, who died Monday.

Mrs. Swannell was born in Kildonan, Manitoba, but had been a resident of Victoria for the past 60 years. Her late residence was 564 Dallas Road.

She is survived by her husband, Frank, at home; three sons, Charles of Victoria, Lorne of Prince George and Arthur of Victoria; a daughter, Mrs. A. C. Pollard, of Victoria; a sister, Mrs. G. B. Dixon, of Victoria, and two brothers, Henry Driver of Victoria and Frank Driver of Nanaimo.

Canon Robert Willis will officiate at the funeral service which will be followed by cremation at Royal Oak Crematorium.

Breeders Plan Nanaimo Show For Chinchillas

Annual show sponsored by Vancouver Island Chinchilla Breeders Association will be held at Nanaimo on Saturday at 11 a.m., J. W. Sawyer, secretary of the show committee, announced yesterday.

Entries in the open show are expected from nearly every large centre on Vancouver Island as well as from the Mainland and the United States.

J. E. Creque and B. E. Mahon of Puyallup, Wash., both noted chinchilla fur specialists, will judge the entries.

Provision has been made for approximately 80 entries, according to Mr. Sawyer. A banquet will follow the showing.

New Clue Found In Disappearance

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 7 (AP). — A new clue to the disappearance of Mrs. Huguette Lemay, 21-year-old Montreal beauty, was reported tonight by Raymond Daoust, brother of the missing girl who vanished while fishing with her husband in the Florida Keys Friday night.

Daoust said he and Huguette's husband, George Lemay, 26, found evidence that she was seen about 28 miles west of Miami Saturday afternoon.

Daoust said the operator of a fishing camp on the Tamiami Trail at Frog City, reported the missing girl and a young couple in a station wagon spent an hour there.

He said the girl could not speak English well but went for a short boat ride with the couple and later drove west.

Mrs. Lemay, member of a well-known Montreal family and recently a semi-finalist in a Montreal beauty contest, disappeared as her husband, George Lemay, 26-year-old real estate man, fished from a bridge on the Overseas Highway.

Aaron Perry, Professor, Dies of Stroke

Dr. Aaron J. Perry, 75, former professor of English for 30 years at the University of Manitoba who has been in the Royal Jubilee Hospital since January 3 suffering from a stroke, died last night.

Dr. Perry was born in Codys, Queen's County, N.B., in 1875.

He took normal school at Fredericton, graduating from Acadia University with a B.A. in 1901. He gained his M.A. at Yale in 1902 and later studied for his Ph.D. in Chicago. He gained his D.Litt. at Acadia University in 1938.

Dr. Perry taught at Victoria High School from 1905-7. He then lectured at Okanagan College, and later went to the University of Manitoba where he was a professor for 30 years. He retired in 1941 and he and his wife, the former Jennie Nay, also born in New Brunswick, came to Victoria in 1945.

In Victoria Dr. Perry joined the Canadian Club, was a regular symphony concert attender, never missed the university extension lectures, and joined Emmanual Baptist Church.

In 1925 he published a text book on middle English.

CRUISE STARTS

Nearly 300 tourists, who paid a total of $1,728,000 for a 100-day cruise on the Cunard liner Caronia, sailed from New York Saturday on a voyage that will take them to Africa and India and back to Cherbourg.

The luxurious 34,000-ton liner, which has normal accommodation for 700, has only 288 passengers on the winter cruise.

Among the passengers were 13 Canadians, including D. Knight of North Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brown of Vancouver.

Municipality Denies Responsibility

The municipality is not responsible for damages as a result of a woman's fall on Cedar Hill Road near Doncaster Road, Saanich council decided last night.

Mrs. May Dale, 2579 Empire Street, had submitted a bill for damages arising from a fall at the location in November. It was reported a ditch was too close to the road allowance.

The Boy Scouts Association was first formed in 1908 by the late Lt.-Gen. Lord Baden-Powell.

Scientists Concerned For Salmon

OTTAWA, Jan. 7 (CP). — British Columbia's fisheries biologists are concerned about an apparent decline in the abundance of Pacific salmon in certain west coast areas.

The annual meeting of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada was told today that there is evidence that the exploitation of salmon resources is reaching a maximum on the Pacific coast.

Dr. J. L. Hart, director of the board's Pacific biological station at Nanaimo, B.C., said the station is attempting to determine whether the decline indicates a state of depletion due to overfishing or whether it results from lowered productivity.

Some of the species—the spring and the coho—suffer an additional drain from rapidly-increasing sport fishing.

Catches of sockeye salmon in the estuary areas of the Skeena River have been declining for many years, with marked fluctuations in runs from year to year. On the other hand, 1950 and 1951 catches of sockeye in the Nass River, Smith Inlet and Rivers Inlet areas were excellent, even by former standards.

Pink salmon stocks in the Skeena region and in the northern Queen Charlotte Islands have been generally low for about 20 years. There is considerable irregularity in annual catches on chum salmon.

SHIP FREED

A British cargo ship limped into Hong Kong yesterday, freed after six months' detention by Chinese Nationalists in Formosa, described by the Canadian skipper as worse than a Japanese war-prisoner camp.

The vessel, The Taikinshan, was halted by a Nationalist warship off the Communist port of Swatow last June 25, on charges of trading with the Communists.

The skipper, Capt. W. Wherry of Saint John, N.B., told of life aboard the vessel under the Nationalist guards.

"I am personally well grounded in hardship . . . I hesitate to compare this with the conditions experienced in a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp," he said. He was a war prisoner for 44 months.

Culbertson on Bridge - - -

Today's declarer considered himself a very unlucky player when he went down one at his slam contract, but this conclusion was not quite justified!

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

SOUTH

♣ K 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
6 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

Certainly, there was nothing wrong with the slam contract except South's playing technique.

West opened the spade jack and when the dummy was spread South said approvingly: "Nice bidding, partner. Even if we lose this finesse we've still got a good chance." Unfortunately, however, South did lose the spade finesse and when he later had to guess where the vital heart queen lay he guessed wrong and lost the contract.

The fact that West opened the jack of spades should have made South suspect that the king was wrong—an opening lead from K-J-x or even K-J-10 is not often made against a slam contract. But in this case South did not have to give the slightest thought or worry to the position of the spade ace immediately! This was success, no matter where that card lay, if he simply put up the spade ace immediately. This was a hand that was tailor made for the strip-and-throw-in play. After winning with the spade ace it would be simplicity itself to draw the necessary one or two rounds of trumps to cash the top clubs and ruff away dummy's third club, and then to lead a spade giving the trick to whichever defender had the king. That defender would very obviously be hooked. A heart return would give South an automatically successful finesse, and a black card return would let South discard a heart from either hand while ruffing the other.

By RITA DEL MAR

FOR TUESDAY, JAN. 8, 1952

Today's quotation: "He who will not reason is a bigot; he who cannot is a boor; and he who dares not is a slave."
Sir William Drummond.

Tuesday for everyone: Things should go well for those who are diplomatic, patient and persevering. Avoid restlessness, irritability; pitch in and do your share of the work.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Gain information, make statements by evening. Go after facts; indulge in brief jaunts, calls. Get around.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Swing your attention over to matters of income, assets and monetary outlook. Make progress.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Look for helpful adjustments and chances to gain ground. Exert your personality and friendliness.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Gain greater insight into current difficulties. Seek the "way out" via self-study. Finish projects underway.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Seek to define some of your aspirations more clearly. Expect some changes concerning your social set.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Look ahead to new lines of endeavor; inaugurate fresh methods; make adjustments. See parents, higher-ups.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Start to get things on a firmer footing and heighten your perspective; make decisions.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Mend your financial bridges; salvage and renew usefulness of present belongings rather than buy new.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Give the leading role to others and prepare to co-operate or play a "supporting" part. Demonstrate a spirit of helpfulness.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Put yourself ahead with tasks; tone up your vitality; increase capabilities.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Promote creative, executive interests or claim your portion of fun and liberty; pursue pastimes; extend hospitality.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Put some extra drive and enthusiasm into the tasks you face in your household or scene of operations.

Planning ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: Jan. 8, 13, 14, 15, 19, 22, 29; Feb. 10, 11, 12, 13.

Increase Scheduled Thursday

Sleeping Car Fares to Rise; Coast Steamships Unaffected

By RAY WORMALD
Colonist Marine Editor

An increase in minimum fares for standard and tourist railway sleeping car accommodation was announced yesterday by J. A. Brass, chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association. He blamed increased costs for the price boost.

Effective Thursday, minimum fare for standard lower berth $3 to $4, while tourist lower berth price will jump from $2 to $2.70. There will be corresponding advances in other sleeping accommodation charges.

Fares for distances beyond the minimum fare area will not be increased.

In Victoria, C.P.R. officials said the sleeping accommodation on B.C. Coast Steamship Service vessels will not be affected.

MORE PROTESTS

The C.P.R. is going to hear a lot more protest from residents of the Gulf Islands over the present steamship service.

Tomorrow, members of the Gulf Islands' Improvement Bureau will hold a special meeting at Port Washington, North Pender Island. There they will hear a report from secretary Ivan G. Denroche, who recently conferred with C.P.R. officials in Vancouver about the Gulf Islands service.

Residents of Mayne Island have already passed a heated resolution in which the C.P.R. was strongly criticized for failing to provide a suitable steamship service to the islands.

Twenty freighters are expected to visit Ogden Point docks this month to load lumber. Two were loading yesterday. At left is Norwegian motorship Polytrader, taking on 1,750,000 board feet for the United Kingdom. At right is Ss. Walvis Bay, also loading for U.K.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

In its new Gulf Islands service, the C.P.R. has the Princess Elaine calling at Port Washington and Ganges three times weekly from Vancouver. The other islands are visited twice every eight days by the Princess Maquinna.

SKIPPER CHANGED

When the lighthouse tender C.G.S. Estevan leaves Victoria today on her first assignment of the new year she will be commanded by Capt. Joseph Peterson, regular skipper of the smaller tender Berens.

Capt. Harry Ormiston, master of the Estevan, is under a doctor's care.

The Estevan will spend about a week working on the Fraser River.

Meanwhile, the 11-man crew of the Berens will have its annual two-week holiday.

TO LAUNCH CRUISER

Quebec's Lieutenant-Governor Gaspard Fauteux and his wife leave Quebec today by train for Victoria. They will attend recommissioning ceremonies of the cruiser Quebec next Monday at Esquimalt. Mrs. Fauteux will smash the traditional bottle of champagne. The couple will return to Quebec by air Jan. 18.

ACTIVE PORT

Of a total of 14,988,000 board feet of lumber shipped out of Port Alberni during December, 11,892,000 feet went to the United Kingdom. The balance was distributed between Australia and South Africa.

Fifteen deepsea vessels called during the month, six of British registry.

In addition to the lumber cargoes, 1,791 tons of wood pulp went to foreign countries.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

SLIDING DOWN HILL

Uncle Wiggily was making a snug, warm house of moss and leaves on top of one of the hills at the edge of Snow Glen. The house was for Pokie Oakie, the painted turtle, who could not stand snow and cold weather.

"What was that you last said, Whitie?" asked Uncle Wiggily of the polar bear. Mr. Whitewash was down at the bottom of the Glen, digging in the snow with his big, powerful claws. "The leaves made such a loud rustling noise, Whitie, that I couldn't hear you."

"I said, Wiggy," answered the polar bear, "that as soon as I have made my snow-block igloo, I am going to give a party for all the animal boys and girls of Woodland."

"They will just love that, Whitie," said the rabbit uncle. "Do you need any help down there, Whitie, in building your igloo?"

"Yes, I could use a little help, Wiggy," answered the bear. "If you could come down here, you could hand me the soft snow that I will put between the blocks of hard snow, as a mason puts mortar between the bricks. Can you come down and help me, Wiggy?"

"I can as soon as I finish making this house for Pokie Oakie," answered Mr. Longears. "It is nearly finished."

Uncle Wiggily put the last layers of leaves and moss over the hole he had dug in the ground.

"Now your house is ready for you, Pokie," said Mr. Longears. "You can crawl in it and stay there while I go down and help Whitie build his snow-block igloo."

"Must I stay here all night?" asked the painted turtle.

"Oh, no, Pokie," answered Uncle Wiggily. "As soon as I have helped Whitie make his igloo, I will come back to you and take you to my warm bungalow. Will you be all right here in your little house?"

"Yes, thank you, Uncle Wiggily, I will be all right," the turtle answered as he crawled into the house. "I will take a little sleep while you are down in the deep snow glen helping Mr. Whitewash."

Mr. Longears put some moss and leaves over the hole, or front door, through which Pokie had crawled. Then the rabbit gentleman started down the steep side of the hill at the bottom of which was Mr. Whitewash cutting out hard blocks of snow with his strong claws.

"Here I am, Whitie!" said the rabbit gentleman. "I'm ready to help."

"Good for you, Wiggy!" shouted the polar bear in his jolly, roaring voice. "Scoop up some of the top, soft snow that I can use as cement between the hard snow blocks."

With the help of Uncle Wiggily, Mr. Whitewash soon finished his igloo. Then he said:

"Hop up on my back, Wiggy! I will climb up the steep hill with you. It might not be easy for you. At the top of the hill I will put Pokie in my pocket again and shuffle along to your bungalow. Then I will come back here. I am going to sleep in my igloo tonight. Tomorrow I will give the party for the animal boys and girls."

"That will be fine, Whitie," said Uncle Wiggily. "But how are some of my little rabbits, like Jingle and Jangle, to get down this steep hill to your igloo at the bottom?"

"They will slide downhill," said Mr. Whitewash. "In the morning I will have ready a coasting hill for the boys and girls. Leave it to me. Now let's go to your bungalow. Tomorrow the boys and girls will be sliding downhill to my igloo party!"

"That will be wonderful!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. He jumped on the polar bear's back. At the top of the hill Pokie was awakened from his nap in the leaf and moss house. Soon Uncle Wiggily and the painted turtle were in the warm bungalow. Mr. Whitewash shuffled back to his igloo in Snow Glen.

What will happen tomorrow? Please read tomorrow's story and you will know all about it. But please ask the can of molasses not to stay out in the cold or it will get so thick that it cannot run after the pancakes in the morning.
